Dulles Flies To Paris Parley

President Calls For Road Development

Ike Proposes Federal-State Alliance Plan

Spending Of Billions To Meet Population, Defense Needs Urged

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower called by proxy tonight for billions more of highway construction to meet defense needs of atomic war and of a possible population of 200 million by 1970.

Through Vice President Nixon, the President proposed to the annual governors conference a federal-state alliance in a "grand plan" of road development.

He said 50 billion dollars over the years will be only a good start toward meeting requirements of a 200 million population. But he didn't come right out and propose spending that amount.

In the international field, the chief executive declared that in times of crises we must maintain "a military dike on our defense perimeter."

And, sketching in broad terms the American philosophy of government, he said it represents "the middle road between nihilistic chaos and enslaved regimentation."

Nixon Uses Ike's Notes

Eisenhower cancelled a personal appearance at the Governors' Conference because of the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton Eisenhower. Vice President Nixon took his place for a prepared address using the chief executive's notes.

The highway plan was laid before state governors already sniping at a new 900 million dollar highway aid law on grounds it goes against their own demands. The governors want the federal government to abandon gasoline and car taxes and let the states use them to finance roads on their own.

Cries of "appeasement" and "deal" rang out at the conference today against the new law.

Perhaps in realization of the position of the governors' conference that more and better roads are a problem for the states to handle, the President agreed to consider any ideas the state executives might have on the subject.

Wants Recommendations

He said he hoped the governors will study the question and give him recommendations for cooperative action of the federal and state governments so he "can submit positive proposals to the next session of Congress."

At home, he said, the United States "must be an exemplar of national progress in the standard of living."

Aboard, he said, a spiral in the world living standard means a spiral in buying power advantageous to every American producer.

"In a period of crises, ignited by circumstances often beyond present control or immediate remedy," he said, "we must maintain a military dike on our defense perimeter. Beyond it, we must achieve fullest possible productive strength—exploiting every asset, correcting every deficiency in our economic situation."

Eisenhower said that on the bright side of the picture for the future are:

Technical revolution through atomic power.

A possible population of 200 million in the next 16 years.

Russia Rebuffed On H-Test Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—A U.N. committee today rejected a Soviet demand that it call upon the United States to halt atomic and hydrogen bomb tests in the Marshall Islands.

The issue came up in the six-nation Petitions Committee of the U.N. Trusteeship Council. Although the Soviet proposal received no support except that of the Russian representative, it may come up later in the Council itself.

The Petitions Committee also rejected two other proposals, calling for an opinion from the International Court of Justice on the legality of the bomb tests and the other urging the United States to take more elaborate precautions in future experiments.

The issue was brought to the U.N. by a group of residents of the Marshall Islands, who expressed concern over the tests and asked that they be stopped or that greater care be taken to see that the inhabitants are not endangered.

Balky Witnesses Facing Possible Criminal Action

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Senate housing scandal investigators voted today to ask the Justice Department whether criminal action should be brought against two New Jersey builders.

The vote, in the Senate Banking Committee, followed a public hearing at which one of the builders, Sidney Sarner of Tenafly, N. J., refused to answer questions. Sarner stood by his rights under the Fifth Amendment not to testify against himself.

The committee decided to send to the Justice Department the transcript of testimony taken recently in a secret committee meeting from Sarner and Ralph Solow, his partner, for possible criminal action.

Contempt Move Planned

Further, Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said the committee decided to ask the Senate's legislative counsel whether George I. Marcus, a Sarner-Solow partner and their attorney, was in contempt of the Senate. Marcus refused to answer questions, but did not plead the Fifth Amendment.

The committee is inquuiring into reports of huge windfall profits on government-insured housing loans.

Wrongdoing Is Denied

During today's stormy public session, Sarner would give only his name and address. Marcus shouted at Capehart:

"We are unable to prove or disprove your innuendos. We are not going to permit you to publicize these matters and shoot your mouths off. We did nothing wrong."

Capehart's Senate Banking Committee is digging into reports that many builders and promoters of apartment projects around the country, by estimating their costs too high, were able to get such large Federal Housing Administration loans that they could pocket a fat profit at small risk of their own money.

Committee Drops Plan To End Aid To EDC Holdouts

Senate Group Okays $3 Billion Program

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee abandoned today a plan which might have deprived France and Italy of all foreign aid at the end of the year, and then approved a $3,100,000,000 foreign aid program for the next 12 months.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) announced the committee had voted 8-5 to accept virtually unchanged the House-approved language of a far less drastic provision.

Program Shift Voted

The committee also voted, 7-6, Wiley said, to approve an amendment by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) which would hand over the foreign aid program to the Defense and State departments on June 30, 1955. But Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), insisted the amendment is not necessarily a vote to end foreign aid as of that date.

The amendment affecting France and Italy, two of America's major allies, was softened after it was reported that the administration requested such action.

"Ultimatum" Abandoned

In the form tentatively approved by the Senate group over the weekend, the amendment would have cut off American military and economic assistance to the two countries on Dec. 31 unless by that time they had joined the European Defense Community or an acceptable substitute defense setup.

The House version, known as the Richards amendment, would deny to France and Italy a share of 1954 or 1955 foreign aid funds if they failed to ratify the EDC pact, but would not bar them from previously appropriated funds. A good deal of the goods purchased with this money is just entering the foreign aid pipeline.

Wiley said it will take staff members until tomorrow to work out details of cuts which he said will amount to about $348,200,000.

Body Of Thorne To Be Exhumed

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—The body of Montgomery Ward Thorne, 20-year-old heir to a mail order fortune, will be taken from its grave at Rosehill Cemetery and examined, Coroner Walter E. McCarron said tonight.

Mrs. Marion C. Thorne, mother of the youth who died under mysterious circumstances in a $75-a-month Chicago North Side room June 19, agreed to the exhumation. She said she wants "to get at the truth" of her son's death.

Four medical specialists summoned by McCarron reported today that an examination of tissue samples taken from Thorne's body before his burial threw no light on the cause of death. They recommended the exhumation.

Air Force Experiment May Signal End To Military KP

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—KP duty—the most universally cursed aspect of military service—may become a thing of the past.

That is, if an experiment to be tried at the Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla., proves successful.

The Air Force has signed a six months contract under which Nationwide Food Service of Chicago will turn out the chow for some 5,000 airmen at Vance.

Nationwide, which operates dining facilities in more than 200 industrial plants, schools and large office buildings plus the Senate Restaurant in Washington, will do it all. This means the hated potato peeling and pan washing, as well as cooking and serving.

If the Vance experiment — due to start July 21 — works out as Nationwide says it will, the Air Force will consider similar contracts at other bases.

Ben Regan, executive vice president of Nationwide, contends his firm can operate mess halls more cheaply than the military and at the same time, give armed forces morale a shot in the arm by eliminating kitchen police duty.

Nationwide's mess service already is a going business in Canada, where it began as a test at two military bases two years ago and since has spread to nine more bases.

Regan estimates the commercial operation at these bases has effected a saving of "probably 20 to 25 per cent" for the Canadian government.

Churchill Says Proof Of Good Faith Necessary

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today Britain stands with the United States in opposing admission of Communist China into the United Nations under present conditions.

Simultaneously the Prime Minister hinted that President Eisenhower favors in principle his plan for an informal meeting between them and Soviet Premier Georgi N. Malenkov.

Reporting to the House of Commons on his Washington talks with the President, Churchill emphasized that Britain still wants the Chinese Reds to prove good faith before taking China's U.N. seat.

Astonished By "Storm"

"The foreign secretary (Anthony Eden) and I were astonished on our homeward voyage to read in the press and other reports which were sent to us of the storm suddenly raised in the United States by Sen. Knowland (Republican majority leader) about the possibility of Communist China being admitted to the United Nations against American wishes, and still more astonished that these reports seemed to be in some way or other linked with our visit, as if we had come over for such a purpose," he said.

Churchill emphasized that the subject "played no noticeable part" in his Washington discussions and was "not an immediate issue."

Not Moment For China Entry

"Although the British government still believes that the Central People's (Communist) government should represent China in the United Nations," he told the packed House, "they do not consider that this is the moment for the matter to be reconsidered."

The Prime Minister said time would be needed to judge China's good faith and cooperation even if the Reds and other powers reached agreements on Korea and Indochina, such agreements, he observed, would depend on good faith.

Five On Drifting Raft Still 2,200 Miles From Goal

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (AP)—Five hungry men on a foodless raft were drifting today 120 miles south of the Golden Gate, still 2,200 miles from their objective, Hawaii, after three days of floating with the ocean currents.

Four were still determined to drift to Hawaii on their box-like 32-foot craft, the Lehi. But the fifth radioed hurry-up calls to "get me off this damned thing."

The amateur sailors, who are catching their own food and manufacturing their own drinking water with a solar still, had reported eating only one salmon and drinking one quart of water since they left San Francisco Friday afternoon. But they turned down a Coast Guard offer for a tow to shore.

Hague Is Served With Subpoenas

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 12 (AP) — Onetime Democratic boss Frank Hague was served with two subpoenas today when he entered the city to attend the funeral of his nephew, former Mayor Frank Hague Eggers.

The first, presented to 78-year-old Hague just before the start of the funeral procession, touched off a near-riot. It ordered his appearance in a court suit brought by the city to recover three million dollars.

The second, demanding Hague's presence at a City Commission investigation July 21, was served as Hague stopped for a traffic light on his way home from the funeral.

Summons servers sought for months to hand Hague the legal papers to get him into court and before the investigating committee, which is probing city financial affairs during Hague's administration.

Hague, who was mayor of Jersey City for 17 years, Eggers, and John F. Malone, deputy mayor under Hague, are named in the first suit seeking to recover funds allegedly collected from municipal employes as campaign contributions over a number of years.

Eden And Chou Fly To Crucial Geneva Parley

Indochinese Peace Negotiations Will Go Into High Gear

GENEVA, July 12 (AP)—Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai flew back to Geneva today to throw into high gear once again the East-West negotiations for peace in Indochina.

Western efforts were stepped up to give full power to French Premier Pierre Mendes-France under the eight day deadline he has set for a settlement or resignation of his government.

The conference received a new stimulus this afternoon with the announcement from Washington that U.S. Secretary of State Dulles has decided on a hurry-up trip to Paris tonight to confer with Mendes-France on the Indochina negotiations.

Eden To Go To Paris

Eden will go to Paris with the French premier for talks with Dulles, who apparently acceded to repeated urgings by Mendes-France that he lends his fullest support to the fateful peace conference.

There was no hint here or in Washington that Dulles would come on to Geneva to join in the Indochina discussions. He has said previously he would not consider returning to Geneva unless he found evidence of Communist good faith.

The whole conference process today shifted to a series of bi-national meetings between leaders of the various delegations, with Mendes-France filling the heaviest schedule.

Premier's Future At Stake

The French premier, who has staked his immediate political future on ending the Indochinese conflict by July 20, told a succession of visitors that he means what he has said—that he will step out of office and recommend a greatly increased French war effort unless the Communists agree to an "honorable" armistice in the eight-day time limit he has set himself.

French sources said he means a definite end to the shooting, plus agreement on at least the general outlines of a political settlement which would be acceptable to the United States.

Attorney General Of Ala. Arrested For Ballot Fraud

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 12 (AP)—Si Garrett, whose duties as attorney general make him Alabama's chief law enforcement officer, was arrested here today on a vote fraud indictment.

A lunacy proceeding was filed against Garrett a short time after he posted $1,000 bond on the vote fraud charge.

Garrett, 41 - year - old member of a family long prominent in state politics, asserted his complete innocence in a talk with newsmen while he posed for pictures at the sheriff's office.

Indicted June 30

Garrett and two other men were indicted June 30 on charges of altering 600 votes in Jefferson (Birmingham) County in the June 1 Democratic primary to nominate Garrett's successor.

Under state law, convictions in the vote fraud cases are punishable by fines up to $1,000 and prison sentences of not more than 12 months.

Albert L. Patterson of Phenix City, who won the nomination against the opposition of Garrett, was the victim of a gang-style slaying there June 18, a few days before Patterson was scheduled to appear as a witness in the vote fraud inquiry here.

Had Psychiatric Treatment

Garrett directed the Phenix City slaying inquiry for a time, but left the state for psychiatric treatment in a Galveston, Tex., hospital on June 23. He came here from Galveston to submit to arrest.

Indicted with Garrett, and arrested June 30, were Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell of Phenix City and Lamar Reid, Birmingham, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Solicitor (prosecutor) Emmett Perry of Jefferson filed the lunacy proceeding against Garrett in Circuit Court here. The case was set for hearing July 21.

French Beat Red Force To Punch, Leave 300 Dead

HANOI, Indochina, July 12 (AP)—Three thousand Vietminh joining the squeeze on the Red River Delta's shrinking defenses were pounded by French armored and infantry units and left 300 dead on the battlefield. A French briefing officer said the troops had been staked out to catch the rebels.

The officer said the battle was fought for five hours yesterday when Communist-led rebels tried to smash three French Union posts about 20 miles south of Hanoi. All the posts—Lekhu, Dong Ly, and Truong Thon—withstood the assault.

The three posts are along the Hung Yen-Hanoi supply line. The fierce French counterattack, spearheaded by tanks, beat the rebels off before their demolition teams could blow up sections of the road which supplies the isolated garrison at Hung Yen, about 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

In addition to the known rebel dead found on the field, the Vietminh also were believed to have suffered "heavy losses from artillery and planes as they withdrew," the briefing officer said.

The French High Command in Saigon put French losses at 90 killed and wounded.

Death Delays K2 Climb

SKARDU, Kashmir, July 12 (AP)—Delayed by the death of its strongest member, Mario Puchoz, the Italian expedition to 28,250-feet K2 is preparing to launch a new attack on the peak.

Dense clouds, freezing cold winds and persistent snow have made it impossible for the climbers to bring Puchoz' body down to the base camp. He has been buried at the foot of a rock promontory.

Fire Chief Killed, 27 Hurt As Ladder Truck, Car Collide

DAYTON, Ohio, July 12 (AP)—District Fire Chief Bernard Schaeff, 42, was killed today when his car and a Fire Department aerial ladder truck collided at Third and Main Sts. Twenty-one persons were injured.

The truck careened off three cars waiting at a traffic signal and smashed into a corner jewelry store in the busy downtown section.

Chief Schaeff's car climbed a curb and hit a utility pole.

At least seven of the injured were in serious condition and Dorothy Frahn, 56, was listed as critical with multiple fractures and internal injuries.

Among the injured were four firemen, including Kenneth Schultz who is in serious condition with multiple fractures.

Car Plunges Into Bay; Four Of Family Drown

VALLEJO, Calif., July 12 (AP)—A car with a husband, wife and four children plunged off a road into San Pablo Bay today and four drowned although the husband dived repeatedly until he dropped unconscious from his efforts to save them.

The victims were Mrs. Beverly Metzley, 25, of Benicia and three sons, Arthur, 7, James, 5, and Raymond, 3.

A truck driver discovered the tragedy when he first saw the unconscious form of Kathy Ann, 2. The father, Raymond, 28, had succeeded in getting all the others from the submerged car to the bank before he dropped exhausted.

Father and daughter were rushed to a hospital.

Lawmaker Changes Mind After Judge Mentions Fine

ARLINGTON, Va., July 12 (AP)—Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) waived his immunity to a traffic charge today but reversed himself after the judge told him he was guilty and spoke of a fine of $5 and costs. The case eventually was dismissed.

Eberharter lives in Arlington County, Va., across the Potomac River from Washington.

He was charged June 30 with obstructing traffic. When Judge Paul D. Brown called the case in county court this morning, Eberharter said he didn't want the charge dropped simply because he's a congressman. Members of Congress are immune from arrest while on their way to or from legislative sessions.

Eberharter said he wasn't guilty of any violation, that all he asked was to be treated with fairness and courtesy.

Policeman Leroy Rasmussen told the judge he was directing traffic at the scene of an accident at Columbia Pike and Washington Boulevard when Eberharter came along.

The policemen said the car screeched to a stop and he told the driver, "go ahead." Rasmussen said the driver retorted, "go ahead, yourself." Eberharter denied that he had stopped at the scene of the accident.

The policeman said he pursued the car and when he caught up the congressman refused to pull off the busy highway.

Before announcing his decision, the judge asked the congressman if he wished to claim immunity. Eberharter said no.

The judge then said, "while there may be misunderstanding it appeared that your vehicle did obstruct some traffic behind it . . . to me it's a case that involves $5 and costs."

Eberharter then told the court, "I feel completely and totally justified in claiming immunity." The congressman repeated he had done nothing wrong.

The judge then dismissed the case.

Secretary Has No Plans To Go On To Geneva

Hopes Conference Today Will Assure Coordinated Action

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left by plane for Paris tonight in a surprise move which he said demonstrates "the deep concern" he feels over developments in Indochina and Europe.

Dulles expressed hope that conferences scheduled with French Premier Mendes - France and British Foreign Secretary Eden tomorrow would assure "coordinated action" by the three governments.

The secretary emphasized that his flying visit to Paris in no way means he has changed his previous decision to stay away from the Geneva Far East peace conference where Indochina truce talks are nearing a showdown stage.

President Approved Trip

Dulles left aboard a four-engined Air Force plane, less than three hours after the State Department disclosed that, in answer to an urgent French invitation, he had agreed to talk with Mendes-France and Eden at meetings tomorrow afternoon and evening. The White House said President Eisenhower approved the trip.

In a statement at the airport, Dulles served notice that the United States might take an attitude different from that of France in any truce aimed at settling the Indochina war.

"The United States itself is not a belligerent in Indochina," he said, "and it is not clear that the interests which we hold in common with France and Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia will necessarily be best served by identical action in all respects.

No Plans To Go To Geneva

"Therefore, my trip to Paris is without prejudice to the position previously expressed that neither I nor Undersecretary Smith have at the present time any plans for going to Geneva where the United States is presently maintaining contacts with developments through Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and his associates."

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, who joined British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins in bidding goodbye to Dulles at the airport, made it plain France continues to hope Dulles can be persuaded to go on to Geneva after finishing his Paris talks.

Atomic Projects Halted By Strike

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.,, July 12 (AP)—Eight thousand AFL construction workers refused today to cross wildcat picket lines, causing a shutdown on two huge atomic plant building jobs here.

The picket lines, posted by members of AFL Laborers' Local 818, were denounced by the union's leaders as "illegal." Officials of the local and its parent body, AFL Knoxville Building Trades Council urged all AFL workmen on the projects to ignore the pickets and return to work immediately.

About 350 of a total night shift work force of 1,450 reported in late afternoon. Union officials said they hoped to have a larger number on hand tomorrow.

Thousands of other AFL and CIO production workers in three atomic plants here ignored the pickets and went to work.

The laborers sought a 15-cent hourly wage increase in new contract negotiations with the Knoxville chapter of Associated General Contractors. The contractors offered to boost the present $1.40 hourly scale to $1.45.

Ike To Use Plane, Car To Travel To Funeral

The President and first lady will leave Washington by plane, landing at Altoona, Pa., and go from there to State College by car.

If the Vance experiment — due to start July 21 — works out as Nationwide says it will, the Air Force will consider similar contracts at other bases.

Ben Regan, executive vice president of Nationwide, contends his firm can operate mess halls more cheaply than the military and at the same time, give armed forces morale a shot in the arm by eliminating kitchen police duty.

Nationwide's mess service already is a going business in Canada, where it began as a test at two military bases two years ago and since has spread to nine more bases.

Regan estimates the commercial operation at these bases has effected a saving of "probably 20 to 25 per cent" for the Canadian government.

Churchill Says Proof Of Good Faith Necessary

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today Britain stands with the United States in opposing admission of Communist China into the United Nations under present conditions.

Simultaneously the Prime Minister hinted that President Eisenhower favors in principle his plan for an informal meeting between them and Soviet Premier Georgi N. Malenkov.

Reporting to the House of Commons on his Washington talks with the President, Churchill emphasized that Britain still wants the Chinese Reds to prove good faith before taking China's U.N. seat.

Astonished By "Storm"

"The foreign secretary (Anthony Eden) and I were astonished on our homeward voyage to read in the press and other reports which were sent to us of the storm suddenly raised in the United States by Sen. Knowland (Republican majority leader) about the possibility of Communist China being admitted to the United Nations against American wishes, and still more astonished that these reports seemed to be in some way or other linked with our visit, as if we had come over for such a purpose," he said.

Churchill emphasized that the subject "played no noticeable part" in his Washington discussions and was "not an immediate issue."

Not Moment For China Entry

"Although the British government still believes that the Central People's (Communist) government should represent China in the United Nations," he told the packed House, "they do not consider that this is the moment for the matter to be reconsidered."

The Prime Minister said time would be needed to judge China's good faith and cooperation even if the Reds and other powers reached agreements on Korea and Indochina, such agreements, he observed, would depend on good faith.

Five On Drifting Raft Still 2,200 Miles From Goal

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (AP)—Five hungry men on a foodless raft were drifting today 120 miles south of the Golden Gate, still 2,200 miles from their objective, Hawaii, after three days of floating with the ocean currents.

Four were still determined to drift to Hawaii on their box-like 32-foot craft, the Lehi. But the fifth radioed hurry-up calls to "get me off this damned thing."

The amateur sailors, who are catching their own food and manufacturing their own drinking water with a solar still, had reported eating only one salmon and drinking one quart of water since they left San Francisco Friday afternoon. But they turned down a Coast Guard offer for a tow to shore.

Hague Is Served With Subpoenas

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 12 (AP) — Onetime Democratic boss Frank Hague was served with two subpoenas today when he entered the city to attend the funeral of his nephew, former Mayor Frank Hague Eggers.

The first, presented to 78-year-old Hague just before the start of the funeral procession, touched off a near-riot. It ordered his appearance in a court suit brought by the city to recover three million dollars.

The second, demanding Hague's presence at a City Commission investigation July 21, was served as Hague stopped for a traffic light on his way home from the funeral.

Summons servers sought for months to hand Hague the legal papers to get him into court and before the investigating committee, which is probing city financial affairs during Hague's administration.

Hague, who was mayor of Jersey City for 17 years, Eggers, and John F. Malone, deputy mayor under Hague, are named in the first suit seeking to recover funds allegedly collected from municipal employes as campaign contributions over a number of years.

Eden And Chou Fly To Crucial Geneva Parley

Indochinese Peace Negotiations Will Go Into High Gear

GENEVA, July 12 (AP)—Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai flew back to Geneva today to throw into high gear once again the East-West negotiations for peace in Indochina.

Western efforts were stepped up to give full power to French Premier Pierre Mendes-France under the eight day deadline he has set for a settlement or resignation of his government.

The conference received a new stimulus this afternoon with the announcement from Washington that U.S. Secretary of State Dulles has decided on a hurry-up trip to Paris tonight to confer with Mendes-France on the Indochina negotiations.

Eden To Go To Paris

Eden will go to Paris with the French premier for talks with Dulles, who apparently acceded to repeated urgings by Mendes-France that he lends his fullest support to the fateful peace conference.

There was no hint here or in Washington that Dulles would come on to Geneva to join in the Indochina discussions. He has said previously he would not consider returning to Geneva unless he found evidence of Communist good faith.

The whole conference process today shifted to a series of bi-national meetings between leaders of the various delegations, with Mendes-France filling the heaviest schedule.

Premier's Future At Stake

The French premier, who has staked his immediate political future on ending the Indochinese conflict by July 20, told a succession of visitors that he means what he has said—that he will step out of office and recommend a greatly increased French war effort unless the Communists agree to an "honorable" armistice in the eight-day time limit he has set himself.

French sources said he means a definite end to the shooting, plus agreement on at least the general outlines of a political settlement which would be acceptable to the United States.

Attorney General Of Ala. Arrested For Ballot Fraud

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 12 (AP)—Si Garrett, whose duties as attorney general make him Alabama's chief law enforcement officer, was arrested here today on a vote fraud indictment.

A lunacy proceeding was filed against Garrett a short time after he posted $1,000 bond on the vote fraud charge.

Garrett, 41 - year - old member of a family long prominent in state politics, asserted his complete innocence in a talk with newsmen while he posed for pictures at the sheriff's office.

Indicted June 30

Garrett and two other men were indicted June 30 on charges of altering 600 votes in Jefferson (Birmingham) County in the June 1 Democratic primary to nominate Garrett's successor.

Under state law, convictions in the vote fraud cases are punishable by fines up to $1,000 and prison sentences of not more than 12 months.

Albert L. Patterson of Phenix City, who won the nomination against the opposition of Garrett, was the victim of a gang-style slaying there June 18, a few days before Patterson was scheduled to appear as a witness in the vote fraud inquiry here.

Had Psychiatric Treatment

Garrett directed the Phenix City slaying inquiry for a time, but left the state for psychiatric treatment in a Galveston, Tex., hospital on June 23. He came here from Galveston to submit to arrest.

Indicted with Garrett, and arrested June 30, were Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell of Phenix City and Lamar Reid, Birmingham, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Solicitor (prosecutor) Emmett Perry of Jefferson filed the lunacy proceeding against Garrett in Circuit Court here. The case was set for hearing July 21.

No Child Anymore

French Beat Red Force To Punch, Leave 300 Dead

HANOI, Indochina, July 12 (AP)—Three thousand Vietminh joining the squeeze on the Red River Delta's shrinking defenses were pounded by French armored and infantry units and left 300 dead on the battlefield. A French briefing officer said the troops had been staked out to catch the rebels.

The officer said the battle was fought for five hours yesterday when Communist-led rebels tried to smash three French Union posts about 20 miles south of Hanoi. All the posts—Lekhu, Dong Ly, and Truong Thon—withstood the assault.

The three posts are along the Hung Yen-Hanoi supply line. The fierce French counterattack, spearheaded by tanks, beat the rebels off before their demolition teams could blow up sections of the road which supplies the isolated garrison at Hung Yen, about 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

In addition to the known rebel dead found on the field, the Vietminh also were believed to have suffered "heavy losses from artillery and planes as they withdrew," the briefing officer said.

The French High Command in Saigon put French losses at 90 killed and wounded.

Death Delays K2 Climb

SKARDU, Kashmir, July 12 (AP)—Delayed by the death of its strongest member, Mario Puchoz, the Italian expedition to 28,250-feet K2 is preparing to launch a new attack on the peak.

Dense clouds, freezing cold winds and persistent snow have made it impossible for the climbers to bring Puchoz' body down to the base camp. He has been buried at the foot of a rock promontory.

Fire Chief Killed, 27 Hurt As Ladder Truck, Car Collide

DAYTON, Ohio, July 12 (AP)—District Fire Chief Bernard Schaeff, 42, was killed today when his car and a Fire Department aerial ladder truck collided at Third and Main Sts. Twenty-one persons were injured.

The truck careened off three cars waiting at a traffic signal and smashed into a corner jewelry store in the busy downtown section.

Chief Schaeff's car climbed a curb and hit a utility pole.

At least seven of the injured were in serious condition and Dorothy Frahn, 56, was listed as critical with multiple fractures and internal injuries.

Among the injured were four firemen, including Kenneth Schultz who is in serious condition with multiple fractures.

Car Plunges Into Bay; Four Of Family Drown

VALLEJO, Calif., July 12 (AP)—A car with a husband, wife and four children plunged off a road into San Pablo Bay today and four drowned although the husband dived repeatedly until he dropped unconscious from his efforts to save them.

The victims were Mrs. Beverly Metzley, 25, of Benicia and three sons, Arthur, 7, James, 5, and Raymond, 3.

A truck driver discovered the tragedy when he first saw the unconscious form of Kathy Ann, 2. The father, Raymond, 28, had succeeded in getting all the others from the submerged car to the bank before he dropped exhausted.

Father and daughter were rushed to a hospital.

Lawmaker Changes Mind After Judge Mentions Fine

ARLINGTON, Va., July 12 (AP)—Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) waived his immunity to a traffic charge today but reversed himself after the judge told him he was guilty and spoke of a fine of $5 and costs. The case eventually was dismissed.

Eberharter lives in Arlington County, Va., across the Potomac River from Washington.

He was charged June 30 with obstructing traffic. When Judge Paul D. Brown called the case in county court this morning, Eberharter said he didn't want the charge dropped simply because he's a congressman. Members of Congress are immune from arrest while on their way to or from legislative sessions.

Eberharter said he wasn't guilty of any violation, that all he asked was to be treated with fairness and courtesy.

Policeman Leroy Rasmussen told the judge he was directing traffic at the scene of an accident at Columbia Pike and Washington Boulevard when Eberharter came along.

The policemen said the car screeched to a stop and he told the driver, "go ahead." Rasmussen said the driver retorted, "go ahead, yourself." Eberharter denied that he had stopped at the scene of the accident.

The policeman said he pursued the car and when he caught up the congressman refused to pull off the busy highway.

Before announcing his decision, the judge asked the congressman if he wished to claim immunity. Eberharter said no.

The judge then said, "while there may be misunderstanding it appeared that your vehicle did obstruct some traffic behind it . . . to me it's a case that involves $5 and costs."

Eberharter then told the court, "I feel completely and totally justified in claiming immunity." The congressman repeated he had done nothing wrong.

The judge then dismissed the case.

Secretary Has No Plans To Go On To Geneva

Hopes Conference Today Will Assure Coordinated Action

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left by plane for Paris tonight in a surprise move which he said demonstrates "the deep concern" he feels over developments in Indochina and Europe.

Dulles expressed hope that conferences scheduled with French Premier Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Eden tomorrow would assure "coordinated action" by the three governments.

The secretary emphasized that his flying visit to Paris in no way means he has changed his previous decision to stay away from the Geneva Far East peace conference where Indochina truce talks are nearing a showdown stage.

President Approved Trip

Dulles left aboard a four-engined Air Force plane, less than three hours after the State Department disclosed that, in answer to an urgent French invitation, he had agreed to talk with Mendes-France and Eden at meetings tomorrow afternoon and evening. The White House said President Eisenhower approved the trip.

In a statement at the airport, Dulles served notice that the United States might take an attitude different from that of France in any truce aimed at settling the Indochina war.

"The United States itself is not a belligerent in Indochina," he said, "and it is not clear that the interests which we hold in common with France and Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia will necessarily be best served by identical action in all respects.

No Plans To Go To Geneva

"Therefore, my trip to Paris is without prejudice to the position previously expressed that neither I nor Undersecretary Smith have at the present time any plans for going to Geneva where the United States is presently maintaining contacts with developments through Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and his associates."

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, who joined British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins in bidding goodbye to Dulles at the airport, made it plain France continues to hope Dulles can be persuaded to go on to Geneva after finishing his Paris talks.

Atomic Projects Halted By Strike

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., July 12 (AP)—Eight thousand AFL construction workers refused today to cross wildcat picket lines, causing a shutdown on two huge atomic plant building jobs here.

The picket lines, posted by members of AFL Laborers' Local 818, were denounced by the union's leaders as "illegal." Officials of the local and its parent body, AFL Knoxville Building Trades Council urged all AFL workmen on the projects to ignore the pickets and return to work immediately.

About 350 of a total night shift work force of 1,450 reported in late afternoon. Union officials said they hoped to have a larger number on hand tomorrow.

Thousands of other AFL and CIO production workers in three atomic plants here ignored the pickets and went to work.

The laborers sought a 15-cent hourly wage increase in new contract negotiations with the Knoxville chapter of Associated General Contractors. The contractors offered to boost the present $1.40 hourly scale to $1.45.

Ike To Use Plane, Car To Travel To Funeral

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 12 (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower will travel here by airplane and automobile tomorrow to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Mrs. Eisenhower, 49, wife of the president of the Pennsylvania State University, died here on Saturday. University officials said death was caused by a blood clot after she was on the road to recovery from virus pneumonia.

The President and first lady will leave Washington by plane, landing at Altoona, Pa., and go from there to State College by car.

Demo Chairman To Delay His Goodwill Visit To Maryland

Move Afoot To Name Byrd At Convention; Garrett And Calvert Recounts Postponed

[By The Associated Press]

National Democratic Chairman Stephen B. Mitchell today postponed a goodwill trip to Maryland amid reports that an effort will be made at the Democratic State convention to name Dr. H. C. Byrd the official gubernatorial nominee despite any legal moves then in progress on behalf of George P. Mahoney.

In a telegram to C. William Hetzer, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, Mitchell said, "Now that your convention date appears established, on a date in the latter part of July, it might be well to postpone our meeting until after the state convention."

The convention reportedly will be held in about two weeks, although no date has been announced. Under law, it must be held on or before July 28.

Mitchell, House minority leader Sam Rayburn and Senate minority whip Earle C. Clements of Kentucky were scheduled to make a trip to Maryland this week in an effort to unite the party, now split by the brawl between Byrd and Mahoney.

Under the law, the various boards of election supervisors must mail official canvassed returns to the state party chairman before the convention. These returns are now being received by Hetzer and at least one came from a county in which a recount is scheduled—Talbot.

The Baltimore Sun said tonight that the certifications will go before the convention's rules committee. It added: "If they are accepted—and strong efforts will be made to have them accepted—they will go to the floor of the convention."

That would mean a vote on whether the convention would go ahead and make its nominations. If it did, Dr. Byrd would be nominated as things now stand.

A recount of the votes in Talbot County will begin Tuesday. However, recounts in Calvert and Garrett, also scheduled to begin Tuesday, have been postponed.

The recount in Calvert was set back one day to Wednesday while the Garrett tally was postponed until next Monday at Mahoney's request.

Wednesday, the tallies of the voting machines in two of Baltimore's six districts will be re-examined.

A recount in Queen Anne's County is in its second week and others are pending in Worcester, Carroll, Kent and Dorchester.

Byrd, apparent winner of the nomination, regained some votes in the Queen Anne's recount Monday. He picked up four votes in the first precinct of the Third District to push his county lead back to 42. It had dropped from 53 votes to 38 in earlier counting.

By the end of the day, the Board of Election Supervisors had completed six of 15 ballot boxes. The recounting moved along quieter than it had last week.

Trailer-On-Flatcar Operations Started By Four Railroads

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — Four railroads said today they are starting the trailer-on-flatcar or "piggy-back" operations immediately.

They were among six railroads prevented from doing this June 16 by an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling which suspended their proposed rate schedules. The ICC rescinded this order Friday.

The four railroads starting piggy-back operations today are the Pennsylvania, the Erie, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Nickel Plate (New York, Chicago & St. Louis).

A fifth railroad which fell under the ICC ban, the Baltimore & Ohio, said it would begin its service July 20.

Father Of Slain Girl On Stand At Vet's Trial

ELLIOTT CITY, Md., July 12 (AP)—The father of a 17-year-old high school girl who was shot to death April 8 said today the parents did not know the girl was four months pregnant.

The father, Mario Ruzza Jr., was the first witness called by the State in the trial of Eugene E. Bryant of Hillside, who is on trial for the pistol slaying of Joan Marie Ruzza.

Bryant, a 21-year-old Korean war veteran, is accused of shooting his former sweetheart five times with a .38 caliber revolver less than four blocks from her home in Capitol Heights, a suburb of Washington.

The trial was removed to Howard County from Prince Georges on a change of venue. The defense has entered a plea of innocent by reason of temporary insanity.

Princess Margaret Charms W. Germans

BONN, Germany, July 12 (AP)—Britain's Margaret charmed West Germans today as she paid the first official call since 1912 by a member of the British ruling house on a German head of state.

An estimated 15,000 people turned out to cheer the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II as she drove through the streets of the small West German capital to lunch with President Theodor Heuss. Bad visibility and high wind caused cancellation of a planned fly-past of British jet planes and a helicopter trip by the Princess.

The Princess sat between 70-year-old Heuss and 78-year-old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at the luncheon and chatted with them through an interpreter.

Winds Lash Mobile

MOBILE, Ala., July 12 (AP) — Winds up to 75 miles an hour blasted their way into Mobile today, bowling over the giant 435-foot WALA-TV tower, damaging eight planes at Brookley Air Force Base, unroofing several buildings and snapping dozens of power lines.

Nine Coal State Governors Urge Oil Import Curbs

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—The governors of nine coal-producing states today called upon Congress to clamp strict curbs on imports of residual oil to relieve widespread unemployment in the nation's coal fields.

Members of the Governor's Fuel Conference also asked for a congressional investigation into plans for operating the fuel industry in time of war.

Resolutions setting forth the governors' proposals were adopted at luncheon meeting of the fuel conference, held during the national Governors Conference.

Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania introduced the resolutions and presided at the meeting.

Among the nine governors attending the meeting was Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia.

In other resolutions, the governors:

1. Agreed to seek a joint meeting with members of the 84th Congress to discuss "ways and means of relieving some of the distressing situations confronting the coal industry and of aiding the coal industry's program."

2. Called for a national fuel policy that "would consider the economic impact of any proposed importation of natural gas into the United States" from Canada and Mexico.

Hourly Work Week Average Increases

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower's top economic adviser said today an increase in the average hourly work week in industry since January may be the tipoff that employment will rise in future months.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told the Senate-House Joint Economic subcommittee this was a "very favorable" sign.

McKeldin Urges Drive Against Chronic Illness

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland today urged the Governors' Conference to set up machinery to coordinate effort among the states in combating chronic illness.

In a speech prepared for delivery here, he led discussion on the subject which he suggested as a matter for consideration at the governors' meeting.

He said Maryland feels no smugness about the advances it has made in combating chronic diseases in the state. "On the contrary, we realize we have barely scratched the surface of this challenging problem," he said.

Row With Substitute Forces D'Alesandro From Hospital

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Mayor "Tommy" D'Alesandro came bouncing today out of a hospital and back to the City Hall after four months with a declaration "I never ran away from a fight."

The peppery mayor, as usual, reacted quickly to a challenge.

"The mayor is either sick, or he is not sick," declared Arthur Price, City Council president with whom D'Alesandro is feuding. "If he is not sick, why doesn't he come back to the City Hall?"

That was last night. This morning, "Tommy" came back.

"Are you out for good, Tommy?" asked a bystander.

"I'm going back to work," replied the mayor.

"Well, you better get back there and straighten things out," advised the friend.

Price has been acting mayor since D'Alesandro entered the Bon Secours Hospital March 10. D'Alesandro was run down generally and had lost more than 50 pounds.

Signs that he was better appeared during the weekend. He asked Price to send him three pending ordinances for action. Price refused, saying he was acting mayor as long as D'Alesandro was absent. D'Alesandro responded with an order "firing" Price who said he was going to ignore it as long as the mayor was in the hospital and not on the job.

So D'Alesandro up and walked out of the hospital and back to his desk, signed some contracts and went into conference with other officials.

Marie McDonald Goes To Hawaii For Rest

LOS ANGELES, July 12 (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald has gone to Hawaii for a rest before facing trial on misdemeanor charges of hit and run driving while under the influence of drugs, her husband said today.

The husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, said she left "with my blessing" and denied reports they have separated. Miss McDonald was accompanied by their two children, he said.

Ike Proposes

But on the dark side, he said, are:

A shortage of 300,000 grade school classrooms and 813,000 hospital beds.

An annual increase of 250,000 disabled persons requiring vocational rehabilitation.

Dislocations in the economy requiring "undesirable government intervention—from subsidies to outright seizure and control in the recent past."

A transportation system in many respects the world's best but far from the best America can provide "in an era when defensive and productive strength require the absolute best."

All these require some federal-state cooperation, Eisenhower said, and transportation must have top priority in planning.

Getting down to the highway network specifically, the chief executive described it as inadequate locally and obsolete as a national system — an arrangement that "merely happened," that was based at the start on terrain, Indian and cattle trails and section lines.

"Experts say," he went on, "five billion a year for 10 years—in addition to current normal expenditures—will pay off in economic growth. And when we have spent 50 billion, we shall only have made a good start on the highways the country will need for a population of 200 million."

Central Europe Faces New Flood Threat

VIENNA, July 12 (AP) — Flood-stricken central Europe faced a new threat today. Avalanches roaring down the snow-capped Alps may cause subsiding rivers to rise again.

Snowslides already were reported in the Austrian Alps. The slides started under sudden summer sun, coming in the wake of a week of winter - like storms.

The threat arose as thousands of Austria's and Germany's estimated 70,000 homeless returned to the sodden debris of their hearths, and as other European nations poured in offers of help.

At least 27 persons have been killed in the disaster—central Europe's worst flood in centuries. Crop damage alone runs into millions of dollars.

Demo Chairman To Delay His Goodwill Visit To Maryland

Move Afoot To Name Byrd At Convention; Garrett And Calvert Recounts Postponed

[By The Associated Press]

National Democratic Chairman Stephen B. Mitchell today postponed a goodwill trip to Maryland amid reports that an effort will be made at the Democratic State convention to name Dr. H. C. Byrd the official gubernatorial nominee despite any legal moves then in progress on behalf of George P. Mahoney.

In a telegram to C. William Hetzer, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, Mitchell said, "Now that your convention date appears established, on a date in the latter part of July, it might be well to postpone our meeting until after the state convention."

The convention reportedly will be held in about two weeks, although no date has been announced. Under law, it must be held on or before July 28.

Mitchell, House minority leader Sam Rayburn and Senate minority whip Earle C. Clements of Kentucky were scheduled to make a trip to Maryland this week in an effort to unite the party, now split by the brawl between Byrd and Mahoney.

Under the law, the various boards of election supervisors must mail official canvassed returns to the state party chairman before the convention. These returns are now being received by Hetzer and at least one came from a county in which a recount is scheduled—Talbot.

The Baltimore Sun said tonight that the certifications will go before the convention's rules committee. It added: "If they are accepted—and strong efforts will be made to have them accepted—they will go to the floor of the convention."

That would mean a vote on whether the convention would go ahead and make its nominations. If it did, Dr. Byrd would be nominated as things now stand.

A recount of the votes in Talbot County will begin Tuesday. However, recounts in Calvert and Garrett, also scheduled to begin Tuesday, have been postponed.

The recount in Calvert was set back one day to Wednesday while the Garrett tally was postponed until next Monday at Mahoney's request.

Wednesday, the tallies of the voting machines in two of Baltimore's six districts will be re-examined.

A recount in Queen Anne's County is in its second week and others are pending in Worcester, Carroll, Kent and Dorchester.

Byrd, apparent winner of the nomination, regained some votes in the Queen Anne's recount Monday. He picked up four votes in the first precinct of the Third District to push his county lead back to 42. It had dropped from 53 votes to 38 in earlier counting.

By the end of the day, the Board of Election Supervisors had completed six of 15 ballot boxes. The recounting moved along quieter than it had last week.

Trailer-On-Flatcar Operations Started By Four Railroads

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — Four railroads said today they are starting the trailer-on-flatcar or "piggy-back" operations immediately.

They were among six railroads prevented from doing this June 16 by an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling which suspended their proposed rate schedules. The ICC rescinded this order Friday.

The four railroads starting piggy-back operations today are the Pennsylvania, the Erie, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Nickel Plate (New York, Chicago & St. Louis).

A fifth railroad which fell under the ICC ban, the Baltimore & Ohio, said it would begin its service July 20.

Father Of Slain Girl On Stand At Vet's Trial

ELLIOTT CITY, Md., July 12 (AP)—The father of a 17-year-old high school girl who was shot to death April 8 said today the parents did not know the girl was four months pregnant.

The father, Mario Ruzza Jr., was the first witness called by the State in the trial of Eugene E. Bryant of Hillside, who is on trial for the pistol slaying of Joan Marie Ruzza.

Bryant, a 21-year-old Korean war veteran, is accused of shooting his former sweetheart five times with a .38 caliber revolver less than four blocks from her home in Capitol Heights, a suburb of Washington.

The trial was removed to Howard County from Prince Georges on a change of venue. The defense has entered a plea of innocent by reason of temporary insanity.

Princess Margaret Charms W. Germans

BONN, Germany, July 12 (AP)—Britain's Margaret charmed West Germans today as she paid the first official call since 1912 by a member of the British ruling house on a German head of state.

An estimated 15,000 people turned out to cheer the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II as she drove through the streets of the small West German capital to lunch with President Theodor Heuss. Bad visibility and high wind caused cancellation of a planned fly-past of British jet planes and a helicopter trip by the Princess.

The Princess sat between 70-year-old Heuss and 78-year-old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at the luncheon and chatted with them through an interpreter.

Winds Lash Mobile

MOBILE, Ala., July 12 (AP) — Winds up to 75 miles an hour blasted their way into Mobile today, bowling over the giant 435-foot WALA-TV tower, damaging eight planes at Brookley Air Force Base, unroofing several buildings and snapping dozens of power lines.

Nine Coal State Governors Urge Oil Import Curbs

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—The governors of nine coal-producing states today called upon Congress to clamp strict curbs on imports of residual oil to relieve widespread unemployment in the nation's coal fields.

Members of the Governor's Fuel Conference also asked for a congressional investigation into plans for operating the fuel industry in time of war.

Resolutions setting forth the governors' proposals were adopted at luncheon meeting of the fuel conference, held during the national Governors Conference.

Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania introduced the resolutions and presided at the meeting.

Among the nine governors attending the meeting was Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia.

In other resolutions, the governors:

1. Agreed to seek a joint meeting with members of the 84th Congress to discuss "ways and means of relieving some of the distressing situations confronting the coal industry and of aiding the coal industry's program."

2. Called for a national fuel policy that "would consider the economic impact of any proposed importation of natural gas into the United States" from Canada and Mexico.

Hourly Work Week Average Increases

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower's top economic adviser said today an increase in the average hourly work week in industry since January may be the tipoff that employment will rise in future months.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told the Senate-House Joint Economic subcommittee this was a "very favorable" sign.

McKeldin Urges Drive Against Chronic Illness

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland today urged the Governors' Conference to set up machinery to coordinate effort among the states in combating chronic illness.

In a speech prepared for delivery here, he led discussion on the subject which he suggested as a matter for consideration at the governors' meeting.

He said Maryland feels no smugness about the advances it has made in combating chronic diseases in the state. "On the contrary, we realize we have barely scratched the surface of this challenging problem," he said.

Row With Substitute Forces D'Alesandro From Hospital

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Mayor "Tommy" D'Alesandro came bouncing today out of a hospital and back to the City Hall after four months with a declaration "I never ran away from a fight."

The peppery mayor, as usual, reacted quickly to a challenge.

"The mayor is either sick, or he is not sick," declared Arthur Price, City Council president with whom D'Alesandro is feuding. "If he is not sick, why doesn't he come back to the City Hall?"

That was last night. This morning, "Tommy" came back.

"Are you out for good, Tommy?" asked a bystander.

"I'm going back to work," replied the mayor.

"Well, you better get back there and straighten things out," advised the friend.

Price has been acting mayor since D'Alesandro entered the Bon Secours Hospital March 10. D'Alesandro was run down generally and had lost more than 50 pounds.

Signs that he was better appeared during the weekend. He asked Price to send him three pending ordinances for action. Price refused, saying he was acting mayor as long as D'Alesandro was absent. D'Alesandro responded with an order "firing" Price who said he was going to ignore it as long as the mayor was in the hospital and not on the job.

So D'Alesandro up and walked out of the hospital and back to his desk, signed some contracts and went into conference with other officials.

Marie McDonald Goes To Hawaii For Rest

LOS ANGELES, July 12 (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald has gone to Hawaii for a rest before facing trial on misdemeanor charges of hit and run driving while under the influence of drugs, her husband said today.

The husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, said she left "with my blessing" and denied reports they have separated. Miss McDonald was accompanied by their two children, he said.

Ike Proposes

But on the dark side, he said, are:

A shortage of 300,000 grade school classrooms and 813,000 hospital beds.

An annual increase of 250,000 disabled persons requiring vocational rehabilitation.

Dislocations in the economy requiring "undesirable government intervention—from subsidies to outright seizure and control in the recent past."

A transportation system in many respects the world's best but far from the best America can provide "in an era when defensive and productive strength require the absolute best."

All these require some federal-state cooperation, Eisenhower said, and transportation must have top priority in planning.

Getting down to the highway network specifically, the chief executive described it as inadequate locally and obsolete as a national system — an arrangement that "merely happened," that was based at the start on terrain, Indian and cattle trails and section lines.

"Experts say," he went on, "five billion a year for 10 years—in addition to current normal expenditures—will pay off in economic growth. And when we have spent 50 billion, we shall only have made a good start on the highways the country will need for a population of 200 million."

Guatemala Recognition

ROME, July 12 (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman announced today Italy has recognized the new military regime in Guatemala, the first European nation to do so.

Central Europe Faces New Flood Threat

VIENNA, July 12 (AP) — Flood-stricken central Europe faced a new threat today. Avalanches roaring down the snow-capped Alps may cause subsiding rivers to rise again.

Snowslides already were reported in the Austrian Alps. The slides started under sudden summer sun, coming in the wake of a week of winter - like storms.

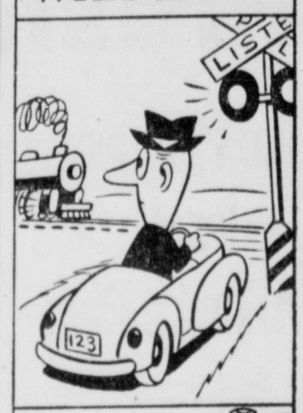

The threat arose as thousands of Austria's and Germany's estimated 70,000 homeless returned to the sodden debris of their hearths, and as other European nations poured in offers of help.

At least 27 persons have been killed in the disaster—central Europe's worst flood in centuries. Crop damage alone runs into millions of dollars.

Haile Selassi Leaves

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia left by plane for France tonight after a seven weeks visit to this country.

Cadillac

No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order . . . the keys are in his hand . . . and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others", we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

LaVale Club Appoints Committee

The LaVale Homemakers Club discussed its theme booth and appointed a collection committee at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the fire hall. Mrs. Alice Turner led the discussion on the theme booth and it was decided the group would meet at 1:30 July 22 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Screen, 215 National Highway, at which time ideas are to be presented and plans completed.

A committee to collect the club's assessment for the new kitchen in the home demonstration agent's office was appointed. It consists of Mrs. George Kemp, Mrs. Douglas Smith, Mrs. John Beckman, Mrs. Dayton Murphy, Mrs. Elizabeth Moody, Mrs. Roy George, Mrs. Guy Brengle, Mrs. Lulu Hughes and Mrs. Bertha Simpson. The collection is to be completed by September.

Mrs. Screen opened the meeting with the flag salute, which was followed by the singing of "America the Beautiful," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Guy Brengle. Mrs. Homer Carlton read the collect. Since the meeting was close to July 4th a patriotic program was presented with Mrs. John Beckman and Mrs. Screen reading articles on the Declaration of Independence.

The group welcomed Miss Maude A. Bean back from her visit in the west. She spoke briefly and recommended the members read Miss Dorothy Emerson's book, "Speak for Yourself." Mrs. Moody, Sick committee chairman, reported on Mrs. Joseph Kotchenreuther being ill and cards sent to Mrs. Orville Boughton and Mrs. L. E. Good. A routine report was given by Miss Mary Brengle and a letter read from Miss Joann Reitz thanking the members for making the aprons for the Community Flower Show, and about the Cumberland Fair.

Announcement was made of the state council meeting being held at the Hotel Statler, Baltimore, in October; and of extra RWSC pictures which can be be obtained at the court house.

Commissioner Keegan Issues His Statement

William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and fire, yesterday submitted a statement concerning his taking over his new office.

Keegan, who was finance commissioner during his last term, last Tuesday took over the police and fire commissionership from John J. Long, who moved to finance after holding the police and fire job four years.

Keegan served as police and fire commissioner from 1946 through 1950, and was defeated for re-election in 1950. He led the ticket this election in total votes.

His statement follows:

"I want to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to Mayor Eves, my fellow elected commissioners and to the citizens of Cumberland for the confidence which all of them have shown in me in re-electing me to City Council and in my selection to this commissionship.

"I shall assume the duties of my new office with a full appreciation born of experience and observation as to the responsibilities involved. In doing so, I want the Mayor and my fellow commissioners and all interested citizens to know that I assume these responsibilities without any rancor or ill feeling toward any person and with the sole desire to eliminate so far as I can factionalism in my department and to do my utmost to do a good job for the people as a whole.

"As a citizen and taxpayer and a city commissioner of Cumberland, I have no axes to grind, no favors to bestow and my wholehearted interest, whether my judgment be at times right or wrong, is to protect the general welfare of our community and to further in every way the best interests of our good city. I shall certainly work wholeheartedly with all of you, will accept criticism without ill will and constructive criticism with thanks. I believe wholeheartedly in Cumberland in its people and in its future. In this spirit, I hope all of us will go forward along constructive lines into building a finer community."

Doctor Appointed

Dr. H. W. Eliason, 655 Washington Street, yesterday was appointed as physician to the City Board of Health by the Mayor and Council on recommendation of Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer.

Planning Group Urges City To Ask SRC To Proceed With Industrial Highway

The Mayor and Council should inform the State Roads Commission that its contract proposed to the city for the crosstown expressway is not acceptable, the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission recommended in a six-page report to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

There were two other recommendations of the commission in regard to this expressway — that the city should request the SRC to furnish the city with detailed information in connection with the project, and that the city should request that the SRC proceed with the construction of the industrial boulevard with the full assurance that the city will cooperate in every possible way to insure its early completion.

The report, dated Friday, July 9, was signed by James A. Avirett, chairman, and Benjamin W. O'Rourke, Anthony Saeli, and Albert S. Paye, members.

Estimate City Costs

The commission, in stating why the proposed SRC agreement is not, in the board's opinion, in the best interests of the city, points out that the SRC has failed to submit any detailed plans or any drawings of the proposed overhead structures and its approaches.

The SRC, the commission added, has not shown the grades and elevations along the proposed route or the center line through West Side, Ridgedale Avenue and Dingle areas.

The commission pointed to six items in the contract that has been proposed to the city, in which the financial obligation of the city would amount to $1,770,000.

Broken down, the commission lists the items as follows:

1. In one part of the proposed contract it is provided that the city pay $70,000 a year out of gasoline and motor vehicle revenue. The taxpayers will have to make up $70,000 a year for the Street Department. It would require an increase of ten cents in the tax rate to accomplish this.
2. The cost of traffic controls required would amount to $150,000.
3. Automatic signals and curb widening on Henderson Avenue would cost $30,000.
4. Lighting and maintaining the lighting system on the bridges and approaches would total $200,000.
5. Cost of gutters, sidewalks and curbs not a necessary adjunct to the bridge would be $150,000.

The commission report also contends too that the maintenance of Henderson Avenue, one of the stipulations of the contract, plus the maintenance of the overhead bridge would far exceed the revenue derived by adding the length of Henderson Avenue to the street mileage of Cumberland.

The report goes on to contend that the additional loss suffered by property destruction necessary for the project would amount to $1,000,000 in properties removed from the city assessment totals.

At present tax rates, this would mean an annual loss of $13,600 in taxes, which, over a period of years, would mean $272,000.

The commission stated that it is thus apparent that the actual cost of the overhead bridge would be $2,770,000.

Will Study Report

The Planning Commission said before any accurate picture of the exact costs can be had, the State Roads Commission will have to furnish the city with the following detailed information:

Accurate set of plans showing the location, grades and elevations of the proposed structures and the approaches; an accurate and detailed estimate of the costs which the SRC is asking the city to assume with a guaranteed upper limit of the costs to the city; and a complete list of properties which are to be destroyed.

Finally the commission said it was of the opinion there was no necessary relationship between the industrial boulevard and the crosstown expressway.

Properties have been acquired for the industrial belt from the South End and there is no reason for a delay in that project, the commission concluded.

The council approved a motion to include the report in its study of the crosstown expressway.

Storage Tank Job Is Given Approval

The Mayor and Council approved the installation of two 3,000-gallon underground storage tanks at the Atlantic Service Station at Henderson Avenue and Glenn Street.

The work was approved by Fire Chief Virgil Parker and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum.

Budget Plan Offered

A new budget payment plan designed to ease the impact of cold weather heating bills has been offered to the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company customers here. Under the plan, the company's heating customers have an opportunity to pay heating costs in ten monthly installments from September through June.

12 Draftees To Be Inducted

Twelve registrants of local draft boards will report Thursday in Fairmont (W. Va.) for induction into the armed forces.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator, said the contingent will leave the Blue Ridge Bus Terminal on North Mechanic Street at 7:50 a. m. Slated for military service are:

Board 27—DeWayne McKinley Morris, Little Orleans, a volunteer; William Jonah McLaughlin, RD 1, Oldtown; John Robert Trail, Star Route, Flintstone; Curtis Ray Middleton, RD 1, Oldtown, and Leo Elliott Dolly, RD 2, Williams Road.

Board 28—Neil Leonard Grayson, 225 Glenn Street, a volunteer; Jack Lee Robinette, 523 Welch Avenue; Charles Lee Harris, 483 Eastern Avenue; Franklin Delano Heavner, RD 3, Bedford Road, and Denny Lee Martin, 611 North Mechanic Street.

Board 29—Demo Nick Carros, 815 Gephart Drive, a volunteer, and Leroy Ort, Morristown, N. J., formerly of 874 Sperry Terrace.

Fahey also announced that Selective Service Headquarters in the Union Street County Building will be moved Friday morning to adjoining rooms 232-237 on the second floor of the Post Office.

Activities will be suspended until 1 p. m. Friday, he said, adding that the new quarters will be more efficient since draft board personnel will be able to confer with Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine recruiters located on the third floor.

The Post Office rooms were formerly occupied by the deputy U. S. marshal and have been used in recent years by the Red Cross during fund-raising campaigns.

Last week the Allegany County Board of Commissioners received notification of cancellation of the lease on the Union Street office by the General Services Administration of the federal government. The cancellation is effective August 1.

Commissioner Keegan Issues His Statement

William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and fire, yesterday submitted a statement concerning his taking over his new office.

Keegan, who was finance commissioner during his last term, last Tuesday took over the police and fire commissionership from John J. Long, who moved to finance after holding the police and fire job four years.

Keegan served as police and fire commissioner from 1946 through 1950, and was defeated for re-election in 1950. He led the ticket this election in total votes.

His statement follows:

"I want to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to Mayor Eves, my fellow elected commissioners and to the citizens of Cumberland for the confidence which all of them have shown in me in re-electing me to City Council and in my selection to this commissionship.

"I shall assume the duties of my new office with a full appreciation born of experience and observation as to the responsibilities involved. In doing so, I want the Mayor and my fellow commissioners and all interested citizens to know that I assume these responsibilities without any rancor or ill feeling toward any person and with the sole desire to eliminate so far as I can factionalism in my department and to do my utmost to do a good job for the people as a whole.

Investigating CIA Is Ticklish Job

There are more areas in government in the U. S. today which are closed books than ever in its history. The fact that it was possible for the administration to send three Russian "diplomats" packing and newspapers printed nothing about it for months illustrates the point.

Another closed book, so far as the public is concerned, is the Central Intelligence Agency. Congress gives up its power of review of appropriations to enable this agency, and others like it, to operate in secrecy. Certainly there is a case for an investigation of the supersecret CIA by a Hoover Commission task force, as Hoover has just proposed.

All the Hoover Commission proposes to do is apply to the administrative structure of the CIA the same good management yardsticks it has used in gauging the effectiveness of other government agencies in the past five years.

For all the public knows, or any congressman knows, the CIA might be a bureaucratic mess, full of interlocking functions and duplications. There may be a great deal of administrative waste. In any event, the commission, which will be headed by retired Gen. Mark Clark, should be able to say, without revealing any of th CIA's operating secrets, whether the agency is being run efficiently.

This would enlighten both the congressman who is asked to vote funds for the operation of the CIA on a no-questions-asked basis, and the public.

While such an investigation certainly wouldn't indicate whether the CIA was loaded with leftwingers, it would reveal any boondoggling in which it may be engaging.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Curious Episode

The Gray Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Conn., some time ago issued an advertisement in a number of publications showing a big, ferocious bear. The caption read: "The Truce of the Bear" and the following stanzas from Rudyard Kipling were quoted:

"When he stands up like a tired man, tottering near and near;
"When he stands up as pleading, in wavering, manbrute guise,
"When he veils the hate and cunning of his little swinish eyes;
"When he shows as seeking quarter, with paws like hands in prayer,
"That is the time of peril — the time of the Truce of the Bear!"

It was what is known as institutional advertising and expressed the views of Walter Ditmars, the president of the company. The advertisement was issued, as is customary, through an agency, French & Preston, Inc., and was printed in magazines. I do not know whether such advertisements sell the product of the company because no attempt to do that was made. Apparently Mr. Ditmars likes Kipling and dislikes Russia.

Thereupon the agency received a form letter from the "A.A.A.A. Interchange of Opinion on Objectionable Advertising." This letter contained the following criticism:

"Poor taste, timing and handling. Giving ammunition to unfriendly nation. Could be used against us."

Mind you, the advertisement consists of nothing but the ferocious bear and Kipling's lines. Kipling has not been poor taste, lo! these many years and it is a little difficult to grasp how the particular unfriendly nation could become more unfriendly than it has been since 1948.

So, James Selvage who runs this advertising agency inquired at first politely as to who made the criticism, so that he could argue the point with him. No soap! The critic had to remain incognito although the criticism might reflect on the company sponsoring the advertisement, the agency and possibly even on Rudyard Kipling who never liked the Russians anyhow, he being a British imperialist in the days when the empire stood firm at the Khyber Pass.

Now, to give "ammunition to unfriendly nation," is a dangerous thing to do; it might even lead to a congressional investigation or to an FBI field check. In effect, the anonymous author of the accusation, whose name was safely guarded during months of correspondence, says that to run an advertisement against Russia is to give Russia ammunition which is like saying that we must all agree with Malenkov lest disagreement perhaps annoy that roundish gentleman and cause him to get very angry and call us names such as Durak! or Bourjouie! (I guarantee all editors and readers that these terms are not obscene, only offensive, and that they may be published without fear of arrest.)

The author of the protest may be an honest man; he may be well-intentioned. Certainly the organization which distributed the anonymous criticism is worthy and the idea of an interchange of ideas among the hucksters is of the best. We writers are partial to hucksters who provide the revenue on which we live. But I do not understand the criticism nor did Mr. Ditmars who wondered what the fellow meant, if he meant anything at all, or is he one of those who believes that anybody, Eisenhower, Truman, Herbert Hoover, Winston Churchill, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Haile Selassie and Farouk, recently of Egypt, may be torn apart, limb from limb, but do not—for Heaven's sake — do not ever say anything against Russia or the Communists, lest they get angry and throw a nyet at us.

There are such people, although their logic is not understandable. And that leads to a fantastic term which has come into our language, the anti-anti-Communist. (Please repeat anti twice, but not three times.) This is a person who dislikes Communists but even more so dislikes anti-Communists. He puts them all in the same barrel, but the way it works out, he really helps the Communists by fighting their active enemies. They prefer to strangle Marxism by sweetness and light which Marx, Engels and Lenin debunked long ago.

The magazine, "Time," recently referred to me as the high-priest of anti-Communism which I took as a very great compliment, particularly from that publication. I suppose the anti-anti-Communists felt that "Time" had knocked me for a loop. Who knows the foibles of the human mind!

The Mounting Pressure To Ratify EDC

Eisenhower Himself Decided To File Suit Against United Fruit Company

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The question of whether the Justice Department should bring a monopoly suit against the United Fruit Company during the Guatemalan revolt went all the way up to the cabinet before a decision was reached.

Inside fact is that the suit was begun a long time ago by Assistant Attorney General Graham Morison, and when Attorney General Brownell took over, United Fruit lawyers remarked: "This is some of that nonsense of the Democrats and should be tossed out immediately."

However, Eisenhower's new trustbuster, Judge Stanley N. Barnes, decided differently. It took him about 30 minutes to decide that there was a definite case against United Fruit for its banana monopoly in Central America. When he took up the case with the new attorney general, however, Brownell was cautious.

"Talk to the United Fruit lawyers about it before you file suit," he advised. "Hear their side of the story first."

Brownell was advised by subordinates that it was not Justice Department policy to confer with offending parties when the government had an airtight case. Nevertheless, in deference to Brownell's instructions intermittent conferences took place between United Fruit attorneys and the anti-trust division for about a year.

This was what delayed action until about the time of the Guatemalan revolt. It was then that the case was finally sent to President Eisenhower himself. He is turn took it up in a cabinet meeting.

Secretary of State Dulles was all for the suit. He felt it would show the United States was not working for United Fruit alone, but championed smaller companies in Latin America.

Secretary of Defense Charley Wilson, however, was opposed. Once head of the biggest corporation in America, General Motors, Wilson didn't like the idea of an anti-trust suit against United Fruit.

However, it was Wilson's opposition, according to White House aides, that decided President Eisenhower to go ahead. He doesn't by any means always do just the opposite of what Wilson recommends; but in this case, Wilson's arguments seemed to convince Ike that the Justice Department was right.

Ike Helps Joe

President Eisenhower has received an interesting letter from a Democratic congressman. He is Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, who wrote Ike accusing him of playing right into McCarthy's hands by giving McCarthy confidential income-tax returns. It's a penitentiary offense for others to get these returns.

"Permit me to draw your attention to Executive Order 10435, which you issued on February 6, 1953," Congressman Celler wrote, referring to Eisenhower's order giving McCarthy access to income-tax returns. "This," reminded Celler, "was soon after you entered the White House.

"As you very well know, the policy of the junior senator from Wisconsin is never to defend himself against charges, but to attack the individual who accuses him.

"If the committee which he heads had a different chairman I would not have any objection to this order. You can readily appreciate, however, that a person guilty of his irresponsibility should not receive the aid and comfort involved in this executive order."

Congressman Celler might have added that McCarthy happens to be on friendly terms with the commissioner of internal revenue, T. Coleman Andrews, who once introduced McCarthy to a Richmond, Va., audience as one of the nation's greatest Americans—even though Andrews was supposed to be investigating McCarthy's taxes at the time.

It may be because of this friendship that McCarthy has been able to get all sorts of tax returns from the Treasury even though his committee has not voted to get them. Under Senate committee rules, a majority of the committee is supposed to pass on any request for income-tax returns. But, without waiting for such a vote, Andrews makes tax returns available to McCarthy.

McCarthy, in turn, has various investigators, not on the Senate payroll, but paid by his Texas oil friends, who have access to these confidential tax returns. This sets up an SS elite corps of private investigators working for one group of citizens against another.

NOTE—Meanwhile, two of McCarthy's elite corps have failed to get security clearance.

Walter Winchell is helping peddle the yarn that every anti-McCarthy newspaper in the U.S.A. has someone on the editorial staff placed there by Communists . . . . When Winston Churchill was entertained by the National Press Club, the only distinguished speaker who got no applause when introduced was Adm. Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.... Senator Schoeppel of the great farming state of Kansas and a member of the Agricultural Committee switched his vote on the farm bill in midstream. Originally he voted for 90 per cent of parity price supports. Then, with the vote 9 to 6 for 90 per cent, Schoeppel got credit for supporting Eisenhower by changing his vote. This made the lineup 8 to 7 for 90 per cent parity, and Schoeppel could take credit for voting both with the farmers and with Ike . . . . Operation Spill-The-Beans Discloses Many Secrets

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The end is not yet, in the tragic case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer. Now that Washington officialdom has digested the massive transcript released by the Atomic Energy Commission, there is grave and widespread worry about the many breaches of security that the transcript contains.

Among those reliable reported to be acutely disturbed is the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission's own General Advisory Committee, the brilliant Dr. I. I. Rabi. In the Pentagon, too, and especially in the Air Force (which is most intimately affected) the release of the Oppenheimer transcript is regarded as the most wholesale disclosure of secret matter in a very long time.

It is true, of course, that the transcript was edited for security as it accumulated during the hearings. Yet the editing was obviously hasty, and in some cases actually contradictory.

Moreover the security officers plainly expected that the document they were editing would have only the most limited circulation. Hence they used a ridiculously transparent system of substituting rows of dots for questionable words and phrases. This system produces a series of puzzles about as hard to unravel as "Mary had a . . . . lamb." As a result, the release of the transcript has done the following things:

Revealed Air Force Project

(1) Revealed the existence of the hitherto top secret Air Force project, AFOAT I, for long range detection of Soviet atomic and thermonuclear explosions. This pinpoints the operational setup of our long range detection system.

(2) Revealed that our scientific analysts have found the air sample the most reliable of the several available methods of long range dection, and disclosed that our analysts know the precise character of the Soviet bombs listed thus far.

(3) Revealed a multitude of never published facts allowing detailed reconstruction of the basic recommendations of the VISTA Report, also hitherto top secret, including VISTA's controversial Chapter Five. And this is especially interesting. For Chapter Five of the VISTA Report led the then General Eisenhower to make important modifications in his strategy of West European defense, and these modifications still guide the thinking at SHAPE.

(4) Revealed many vital details, also hitherto secret, about the famous LINCOLN study of continental air defense, together with some supplementary data on LINCOLN's predecessor, Project CHARLES.

(5) Revealed the exact timing of the vital discovery by Dr. Edwin Teller, which revolutionized the whole hydrogen bomb project. This lets the Soviet intelligence pinpoint the moments when our H-bomb project really got going, and so gives Soviet analysts the perfect base on which to calculate our H-bomb stockpile.

Massive Revelations

(6) Revealed certain other data that the Soviet intelligence officers can quite probably put together with their own air samples, and so infer the exact nature of this discovery of Dr. Teller's, which is the main theme of our H-bomb technology. By any standard, these are massive revelations. What is much worse, however, is what the intelligence analysts call the "totality" of the picture that the Oppenheimer transcript paints. In this document, for the first time, you find the exact course of the most secret arguments, the precise climate of the highest official opinion, all the complex shadings of viewpoint and approach, as to several of America's most vital strategic problems.

This totality of disclosure really must be beyond pride for the Kremlin. For it permits the most difficult of all intelligence feats—an accurate assessment of enemy intention.

In the opinion of these reporters, security should never conceal from the nation the basic facts of the national situation, yet there have been security investigations when facts were published that were well known to the enemy but not to Americans. And now the Oppenheimer transcript has told the enemy volumes he could never otherwise have learned with certainty.

And who, one asks, was responsible for this Operation-Spill-the-Beans? The answer is simple. The man principally responsible was the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Adm. Lewis Strauss, the passionate guardian of security, who fought and bled to prevent the country being told the truth about its situation by Operation Candor.

The history of Operation Spill-the-Beans is long, complex and unappetizing. But the motive shines clearly through. The motive was to gain advance support for Adm. Strauss' finding against Dr. Oppenheimer, by making public such stuff as the William Liscum Borden poison pen letter, with its ugly charges that were unanimously repudiated by both the Gordon Gray board and the AEC itself. In these circumstances, it is interesting to recall that Dr. Oppenheimer was held perfectly guiltless of any disclosure of secret matter.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Adlee-Adlai-Adlee Stevenson emerges from his cocoon of unpremeditated silence with an astonishing prescription for Democratic victory in 1956.

Adlai advocates nothing less than adoption of the GOP platform for 1952. In less monitored words he wants the Democrats to run on the Republican ticket.

You can slap my sassy face and reduce my alimony if that isn't the gollwallopingest proposition since Honest John brought back the red hot stove.

Adlai said at a bought-for dinner in the celebrity booth of a corner lunch wagon that the time is ripe for everything including specked apples, Democrats and neck boils.

Between bites at a paper cup Adlai said the GOP promised us two thumbs in every pipe, old age security while you are young enough to still enjoy it and louder snappers in bon-bons.

Never before according to Adlai have so many waited so long for so little. The GOP promised us the world with a fence around it. But didn't tell us the fence was going to be barbed wire.

What Adlai forgets is the Republicans ran six times on that platform before they won in 1952.

Like it or lump it 1932, 1936, 1940, 1944 and 1948 are not historic dates in GOP history. Each one is a numbered vacuum without pay.

In 1952 the Republicans came out with the best of all slogans and won. Get the old rascals out and the new rascals in.

It's the lure of the appurtenance and the fascination of the emolument that makes a politician ride a reform wave up a damp avenue. Preferably Pennsylvania.

Adlai knows that better than you know the taste of your teeth.

We do not think the Democrats can win in 1956 with the Republican platform. We're not sure the Republicans can.

The Passing Show

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS) — The passing show —

New York Giant fans were wholly unimpressed by the stunning word from Seattle, where the American Physical Society just met.

Scientists there were told that a hitherto unknown atomic particle, speeding in from outer space with an energy of 10 million billion volts, had been captured on film lifted 100,000 feet in the air by Navy test balloon.

Nothing like it had ever been recorded, the awed room learned from Dr. Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago. By comparison, a splitting uranium atom in an A-bomb generates a mere 200 million volts. Nobody could estimate how many volts the visitor from outer space had in its submicroscopic muscles when it began its long journey to the gelatinous ocean of air in which this world is encased.

From his strange exile at Princeton, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer said of the atomic particle that it is the "puzzler" he has spoken about in recent months. Associates in the AEC consider Oppy's strange relationship with known Communists and the lies he freely admits telling security officers much more of a puzzler than the invader from outer space. But the doctor wasn't thinking about that when he used the word.

"It is trying to tell us something if we could only read and understand it," he said.

Sounds real spooky, doesn't it? But, as we said at the start, it's old stuff for Giants fans. They've captured and taken to their hearts Willie Mays. When last tested he was developing 11 million volts, and had lifted Giants hopes 200,000 feet high.

One of the earliest memories of my father, who died when I was ten, was his prediction that working men one day would get a $5 minimum wage for a 10-hour day. He was active in the central labor union in Washington, and swore by Sam Gompers.

Wonder what he would have said the other day when the AFL Air Line Pilots Association called a July 15 strike against American Airlines — a strike based primarily on the inability of the latest model commercial airliners to fly from New York to Los Angeles consistently in eight hours?

On the average it takes the DC7 eight hours and 35 minutes to bore its way nonstop across the country. There is a CAB ruling which prohibits a crew from working for more than eight consecutive hours during domestic flights. It was made law in the days of frequent intermittent landings and take-offs. (The limit is 12 hours for overseas flights, of which American has none.) The DC7 flight from the coast to New York is an hour faster, which means crews work 25 minutes less than eight hours.

Pilots fly ten days a month, have 20 days off. A first pilot's pay is now $160 a working day, or $1,600 a month — $19,000 a year, according to American President C. R. Smith.

This is not to say they deserve more money or better working conditions or that they don't. It is just to wonder how much my old man would have marvelled.

Louis Sobol quoted Joe E. Lewis the other day as saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you; cry and you get on 'Strike It Rich.'"

We have a deserving gentleman in the balcony, doctor. He must have the hardest luck in town. John Cabey, 68, saved all of his life. His aim was to buy a home of his own. Last Thursday he went to his bank in New York, and withdrew $3,900 of the $3,940 he had amassed through an eternity of had work. He was going to plunk it down on the dream house.

One minute and one block later, an unidentified man slugged him, took the $3,900 from his pocket, jumped in a car and sped away.

New Insecticides Repel Number One Kill-Joy, Insects

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

During the past two decades we have learned more ways to contend with our number one kill-joy, insects. The insecticides of 20 years ago are out of date but the new repellants and attractants (trapping substances) really work. Remedies also are available to treat bites and relieve itching. Progress along this line not only adds to our comfort but makes the world a better and safer place to live.

DDT continues to be an excellent insecticide to keep mosquitoes under control and to destroy bedbugs and fleas. Chlordane or an emulsion of toxaphene or of benzene hexachloride protects against chiggers for one or two months when applied to the ground in proper concentrations. DDT, DDE and pyrethrum are poison to flies and gnats and benzene hexachloride, methoxychlor, and TDE to mosquitoes.

Repellents vary in their effectiveness against different insects. The best known are dimethyl phthalate, dimethyl carbate, indalone, and Rutgers 612, which used alone or in combination affect a wide range of species. The majority of these preparations are toxic if taken internally and cause smarting if applied to tender areas of the skin or to mucous membrane linings particularly around the eyes.

The oily "feel" may be objectionable to some but a greasy base is necessary to give longer and more complete protection. Oil adds an adhesive quality and prevents the material from being absorbed and avaporated too rapidly. When used to repel mosquitoes, flies, and gnats a few drops may be shaken on the palm and applied to the hands, wrists, ears, face, and other exposed areas. Protection should last several hours unless sweating is profuse or the individual takes a bath or goes swimming.

Many repellents dissolve paint, varnish, and plastics and may damage watch crystals, finger nail polish, synthetic cloths (except nylon), and painted and varnished articles.

The best results with chigger and mite repellents are obtained when the clothing rather than the skin is treated. Chiggers usually enter through openings in the clothes and the best defense is to apply the material to hatband, collar, cuffs and hose. Repellents may be rubbed or sprayed on clothing, or the garments may be saturated with a preparation like indalone or a mixture of five per cent dimethyl phthalate, two per cent laundry soap, and 93 per cent water to protect against mosquitoes and mites. Clothing treated with benzyl benzoate often keeps off chiggers even through two home landerings.

Yes, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet.

PROSTATE TROUBLE

No. Enlargement may follow infection (prostatitis) but in older individuals the structure enlarges spontaneously as part of the aging process. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on these two disorders.

Try And Stop Me

A resident of San Francisco's fashionable Nob Hill section hired an affable new Chinese house boy, but found his name too difficult for every-day use. "I can't go around calling you 'Fu Yu Ling Tsein Mei' all the time," she explained, "so I'll just call you 'Russell,' if you don't mind." "O.K., Lady," beamed the lad, "but please tell me your name again." "I," she said, "am Mrs. Eustace Tewksbury Foppingham." "Your name too damlong, too," decided the boy. "I just call you Charlie."

The very bright little girl left the party early. "Mother and daddy are expecting important company for dinner," she explained to her hostess, "and I have to be on hand to make a number of unrehearsed, precocious remarks."

Investigating CIA Is Ticklish Job

There are more areas in government in the U. S. today which are closed books than ever in its history. The fact that it was possible for the administration to send three Russian "diplomats" packing and newspapers printed nothing about it for months illustrates the point.

Another closed book, so far as the public is concerned, is the Central Intelligence Agency. Congress gives up its power of review of appropriations to enable this agency, and others like it, to operate in secrecy. Certainly there is a case for an investigation of the supersecret CIA by a Hoover Commission task force, as Hoover has just proposed.

All the Hoover Commission proposes to do is apply to the administrative structure of the CIA the same good management yardsticks it has used in gauging the effectiveness of other government agencies in the past five years.

For all the public knows, or any congressman knows, the CIA might be a bureaucratic mess, full of interlocking functions and duplications. There may be a great deal of administrative waste. In any event, the commission, which will be headed by retired Gen. Mark Clark, should be able to say, without revealing any of th CIA's operating secrets, whether the agency is being run efficiently.

This would enlighten both the congressman who is asked to vote funds for the operation of the CIA on a no-questions-asked basis, and the public.

While such an investigation certainly wouldn't indicate whether the CIA was loaded with leftwingers, it would reveal any boondoggling in which it may be engaging.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Curious Episode

The Gray Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Conn., some time ago issued an advertisement in a number of publications showing a big, ferocious bear. The caption read: "The Truce of the Bear" and the following stanzas from Rudyard Kipling were quoted:

"When he stands up like a tired man, tottering near and near;
"When he stands up as pleading, in wavering, manbrute guise,
"When he veils the hate and cunning of his little swinish eyes;
"When he shows as seeking quarter, with paws like hands in prayer,
"That is the time of peril — the time of the Truce of the Bear!"

It was what is known as institutional advertising and expressed the views of Walter Ditmars, the president of the company. The advertisement was issued, as is customary, through an agency, French & Preston, Inc., and was printed in magazines. I do not know whether such advertisements sell the product of the company because no attempt to do that was made. Apparently Mr. Ditmars likes Kipling and dislikes Russia.

Thereupon the agency received a form letter from the "A.A.A.A. Interchange of Opinion on Objectionable Advertising." This letter contained the following criticism:

"Poor taste, timing and handling. Giving ammunition to unfriendly nation. Could be used against us."

Mind you, the advertisement consists of nothing but the ferocious bear and Kipling's lines. Kipling has not been poor taste, lo! these many years and it is a little difficult to grasp how the particular unfriendly nation could become more unfriendly than it has been since 1948.

So, James Selvage who runs this advertising agency inquired at first politely as to who made the criticism, so that he could argue the point with him. No soap! The critic had to remain incognito although the criticism might reflect on the company sponsoring the advertisement, the agency and possibly even on Rudyard Kipling who never liked the Russians anyhow, he being a British imperialist in the days when the empire stood firm at the Khyber Pass.

Now, to give "ammunition to unfriendly nation," is a dangerous thing to do; it might even lead to a congressional investigation or to an FBI field check. In effect, the anonymous author of the accusation, whose name was safely guarded during months of correspondence, says that to run an advertisement against Russia is to give Russia ammunition which is like saying that we must all agree with Malenkov lest disagreement perhaps annoy that roundish gentleman and cause him to get very angry and call us names such as Durak! or Bourjouie! (I guarantee all editors and readers that these terms are not obscene, only offensive, and that they may be published without fear of arrest.)

The author of the protest may be an honest man; he may be well-intentioned. Certainly the organization which distributed the anonymous criticism is worthy and the idea of an interchange of ideas among the hucksters is of the best. We writers are partial to hucksters who provide the revenue on which we live. But I do not understand the criticism nor did Mr. Ditmars who wondered what the fellow meant, if he meant anything at all, or is he one of those who believes that anybody, Eisenhower, Truman, Herbert Hoover, Winston Churchill, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Haile Selassie and Farouk, recently of Egypt, may be torn apart, limb from limb, but do not—for Heaven's sake — do not ever say anything against Russia or the Communists, lest they get angry and throw a nyet at us.

There are such people, although their logic is not understandable. And that leads to a fantastic term which has come into our language, the anti-anti-Communist. (Please repeat anti twice, but not three times.) This is a person who dislikes Communists but even more so dislikes anti-Communists. He puts them all in the same barrel, but the way it works out, he really helps the Communists by fighting their active enemies. They prefer to strangle Marxism by sweetness and light which Marx, Engels and Lenin debunked long ago.

The magazine, "Time," recently referred to me as the high-priest of anti-Communism which I took as a very great compliment, particularly from that publication. I suppose the anti-anti-Communists felt that "Time" had knocked me for a loop. Who knows the foibles of the human mind!

The Mounting Pressure To Ratify EDC

Eisenhower Himself Decided To File Suit Against United Fruit Company

WASHINGTON—The question of whether the Justice Department should bring a monopoly suit against the United Fruit Company during the Guatemalan revolt went all the way up to the cabinet before a decision was reached.

Massive Revelations

(6) Revealed certain other data that the Soviet intelligence officers can quite probably put together with their own air samples, and so infer the exact nature of this discovery of Dr. Teller's, which is the main theme of our H-bomb technology. By any standard, these are massive revelations. What is much worse, however, is what the intelligence analysts call the "totality" of the picture that the Oppenheimer transcript paints. In this document, for the first time, you find the exact course of the most secret arguments, the precise climate of the highest official opinion, all the complex shadings of viewpoint and approach, as to several of America's most vital strategic problems.

This totality of disclosure really must be beyond pride for the Kremlin. For it permits the most difficult of all intelligence feats—an accurate assessment of enemy intention.

In the opinion of these reporters, security should never conceal from the nation the basic facts of the national situation, yet there have been security investigations when facts were published that were well known to the enemy but not to Americans. And now the Oppenheimer transcript has told the enemy volumes he could never otherwise have learned with certainty.

And who, one asks, was responsible for this Operation-Spill-the-Beans? The answer is simple. The man principally responsible was the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Adm. Lewis Strauss, the passionate guardian of security, who fought and bled to prevent the country being told the truth about its situation by Operation Candor.

The history of Operation Spill-the-Beans is long, complex and unappetizing. But the motive shines clearly through. The motive was to gain advance support for Adm. Strauss' finding against Dr. Oppenheimer, by making public such stuff as the William Liscum Borden poison pen letter, with its ugly charges that were unanimously repudiated by both the Gordon Gray board and the AEC itself. In these circumstances, it is interesting to recall that Dr. Oppenheimer was held perfectly guiltless of any disclosure of secret matter.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Adlee-Adlai-Adlee Stevenson emerges from his cocoon of unpremeditated silence with an astonishing prescription for Democratic victory in 1956.

Adlai advocates nothing less than adoption of the GOP platform for 1952. In less monitored words he wants the Democrats to run on the Republican ticket.

You can slap my sassy face and reduce my alimony if that isn't the gollwallopingest proposition since Honest John brought back the red hot stove.

Adlai said at a bought-for dinner in the celebrity booth of a corner lunch wagon that the time is ripe for everything including specked apples, Democrats and neck boils.

Between bites at a paper cup Adlai said the GOP promised us two thumbs in every pipe, old age security while you are young enough to still enjoy it and louder snappers in bon-bons.

Never before according to Adlai have so many waited so long for so little. The GOP promised us the world with a fence around it. But didn't tell us the fence was going to be barbed wire.

What Adlai forgets is the Republicans ran six times on that platform before they won in 1952.

Like it or lump it 1932, 1936, 1940, 1944 and 1948 are not historic dates in GOP history. Each one is a numbered vacuum without pay.

In 1952 the Republicans came out with the best of all slogans and won. Get the old rascals out and the new rascals in.

It's the lure of the appurtenance and the fascination of the emolument that makes a politician ride a reform wave up a damp avenue. Preferably Pennsylvania.

Adlai knows that better than you know the taste of your teeth.

We do not think the Democrats can win in 1956 with the Republican platform. We're not sure the Republicans can.

The Passing Show

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS) — The passing show —

New York Giant fans were wholly unimpressed by the stunning word from Seattle, where the American Physical Society just met.

Scientists there were told that a hitherto unknown atomic particle, speeding in from outer space with an energy of 10 million billion volts, had been captured on film lifted 100,000 feet in the air by Navy test balloon.

Nothing like it had ever been recorded, the awed room learned from Dr. Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago. By comparison, a splitting uranium atom in an A-bomb generates a mere 200 million volts. Nobody could estimate how many volts the visitor from outer space had in its submicroscopic muscles when it began its long journey to the gelatinous ocean of air in which this world is encased.

From his strange exile at Princeton, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer said of the atomic particle that it is the "puzzler" he has spoken about in recent months. Associates in the AEC consider Oppy's strange relationship with known Communists and the lies he freely admits telling security officers much more of a puzzler than the invader from outer space. But the doctor wasn't thinking about that when he used the word.

"It is trying to tell us something if we could only read and understand it," he said.

Sounds real spooky, doesn't it? But, as we said at the start, it's old stuff for Giants fans. They've captured and taken to their hearts Willie Mays. When last tested he was developing 11 million volts, and had lifted Giants hopes 200,000 feet high.

One of the earliest memories of my father, who died when I was ten, was his prediction that working men one day would get a $5 minimum wage for a 10-hour day. He was active in the central labor union in Washington, and sworn by Sam Gompers.

Wonder what he would have said the other day when the AFL Air Line Pilots Association called a July 15 strike against American Airlines — a strike based primarily on the inability of the latest model commercial airliners to fly from New York to Los Angeles consistently in eight hours?

On the average it takes the DC7 eight hours and 35 minutes to bore its way nonstop across the country. There is a CAB ruling which prohibits a crew from working for more than eight consecutive hours during domestic flights. It was made law in the days of frequent intermittent landings and take-offs. (The limit is 12 hours for overseas flights, of which American has none.) The DC7 flight from the coast to New York is an hour faster, which means crews work 25 minutes less than eight hours.

Pilots fly ten days a month, have 20 days off. A first pilot's pay is now $160 a working day, or $1,600 a month — $19,000 a year, according to American President C. R. Smith.

This is not to say they deserve more money or better working conditions or that they don't. It is just to wonder how much my old man would have marvelled.

Louis Sobol quoted Joe E. Lewis the other day as saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you; cry and you get on 'Strike It Rich.' "

We have a deserving gentleman in the balcony, doctor. He must have the hardest luck in town. John Cabey, 68, saved all of his life. His aim was to buy a home of his own. Last Thursday he went to his bank in New York, and withdrew $3,900 of the $3,940 he had amassed through an eternity of had work. He was going to plunk it down on the dream house.

One minute and one block later, an unidentified man slugged him, took the $3,900 from his pocket, jumped in a car and sped away.

New Insecticides Repel Number One Kill-Joy, Insects

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

During the past two decades we have learned more ways to contend with our number one kill-joy, insects. The insecticides of 20 years ago are out of date but the new repellants and attractants (trapping substances) really work. Remedies also are available to treat bites and relieve itching. Progress along this line not only adds to our comfort but makes the world a better and safer place to live.

DDT continues to be an excellent insecticide to keep mosquitoes under control and to destroy bedbugs and fleas. Chlordane or an emulsion of toxaphene or of benzene hexachloride protects against chiggers for one or two months when applied to the ground in proper concentrations. DDT, DDE and pyrethrum are poison to flies and gnats and benzene hexachloride, methoxychlor, and TDE to mosquitoes.

Repellents vary in their effectiveness against different insects. The best known are dimethyl phthalate, dimethyl carbate, indalone, and Rutgers 612, which used alone or in combination affect a wide range of species. The majority of these preparations are toxic if taken internally and cause smarting if applied to tender areas of the skin or to mucous membrane linings particularly around the eyes.

The oily "feel" may be objectionable to some but a greasy base is necessary to give longer and more complete protection. Oil adds an adhesive quality and prevents the material from being absorbed and avaporated too rapidly. When used to repel mosquitoes, flies, and gnats a few drops may be shaken on the palm and applied to the hands, wrists, ears, face, and other exposed areas. Protection should last several hours unless sweating is profuse or the individual takes a bath or goes swimming.

Many repellents dissolve paint, varnish, and plastics and may damage watch crystals, finger nail polish, synthetic cloths (except nylon), and painted and varnished articles.

The best results with chigger and mite repellents are obtained when the clothing rather than the skin is treated. Chiggers usually enter through openings in the clothes and the best defense is to apply the material to hatband, collar, cuffs and hose. Repellents may be rubbed or sprayed on clothing, or the garments may be saturated with a preparation like indalone or a mixture of five per cent dimethyl phthalate, two per cent laundry soap, and 93 per cent water to protect against mosquitoes and mites. Clothing treated with benzyl benzoate often keeps off chiggers even through two home landerings.

CONDITIONING EXERCISES

Mrs. D. writes: Do you have a list of exercises for a figure that is getting dumpy even though not overweight?

REPLY

Yes, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet.

PROSTATE TROUBLE

J. Z. writes: Is enlarged prostate the same as prostatitis?

REPLY

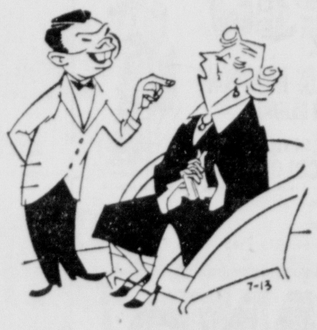

No. Enlargement may follow infection (prostatitis) but in older individuals the structure enlarges spontaneously as part of the aging process. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on these two disorders.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A resident of San Francisco's fashionable Nob Hill section hired an affable new Chinese house boy, but found his name too difficult for every-day use. "I can't go around calling you 'Fu Yu Ling Tsein Mei' all the time," she explained, "so I'll just call you 'Russell,' if you don't mind." "O.K., Lady," beamed the lad, "but please tell me your name again." "I," she said, "am Mrs. Eustace Tewksbury Foppingham." "Your name too damlong, too," decided the boy. "I just call you Charlie."

The very bright little girl left the party early. "Mother and daddy are expecting important company for dinner," she explained to her hostess, "and I have to be on hand to make a number of unrehearsed, precocious remarks."

August Food Registration Now Under Way

Today And Tomorrow Are Final Periods

Red Cross branches in Allegany County began their second registration for surplus foods yesterday, with 339 certified.

Some confusion appears to have developed regarding registrations.

However, this is the schedule, so far as Red Cross branches in the county are concerned.

At Frostburg, families desiring surplus foods may register at the Fire Hall on Water Street today and tomorrow between 9 a. m. and noon. Mrs. J. C. Cobey is branch chairman in charge. Yesterday she registered 85.

At Lonaconing, registrants should report between 1 and 3 p.m. today or tomorrow at the Red Cross Rooms, Main Street. Yesterday, 67 were registered.

At Luke, registering for Westernport, Luke and McCoole, headquarters is established at the Devon Club. Registrants are asked to report today or tomorrow between 1 and 3:30 p. m. A total of 63 have been registered.

In Eckhart, Mrs. Clarence Thomas, who is registering applicants at the Thomas Grocery said, eligibles are asked to apply between 9 a. m. and noon today and tomorrow. Yesterday, 20 registered.

In Barton, Mrs. Arthur Hoffa, branch chairman, has been ill and is a patient at Memorial Hospital. However, those who wish to register for the August distribution may do so with Mrs. Alex Cross or Mrs. Aleta Kimble anytime today or tomorrow. Yesterday they registered a total of 12. No headquarters has been set up here by the branch and these two women may be contacted at their homes.

At Midland, Mrs. Smith is registering applicants at the Midland Fire Hall today and tomorrow from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. Yesterday, she reported 52 families registered.

At Mt. Savage, registrations are being conducted at the Community Building today and tomorrow. Mrs. Collette McNamee is branch chairman. Registrants are asked to report from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. Yesterday 47 were registered.

All registrations for the August distribution must be completed not later than tomorrow and any persons who do not register by that time cannot be certified for the August distribution.

Of the four agencies participating in the monthly registration, the Red Cross is the only one covering the entire county. The Salvation Army and Associated Charities are taking care of registrants in Cumberland and the Allegany County Welfare Board is certifying its eligible clients.

These three agencies have all completed their registration reports and are not now accepting registrants.

When the surplus food program was started by the county commissioners, it was explained that all agencies should have their registrations and certifications completed the first ten days of each month. The Red Cross, because of the scope of operation, has been unable to keep within the ten days deadline. Therefore, Wednesday is their absolute last day for registrations in the county, this month.

The registration now underway is for the August distribution. The registration which will be conducted in August will be for the September distribution.

FROSTBURG — Major James Prout, of Charlotte, N. C., where he has been commander of the Salvation Army for several years, was a guest speaker at the Frostburg Rotary Club last night.

A native of this county and resident of Lonaconing as a youngster, Major Prout recalled his boyhood here, and told of the work the Army is doing in his adopted state.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prout, now residing at Morgantown, W. Va., Major Prout said his father is now 76 years old and left Lonaconing when the coal seams in the Georges Creek began to diminish. His father has been a coal miner all his life.

Mrs. Helen Treacy Baumgartner Is Garrett County Candidate For House Of Delegates

OAKLAND — Mrs. Helen Treacy Baumgartner, wife of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, 134 Second Street, here, has launched her campaign for election to the Maryland House of Delegates.

Seeking to become the first woman to represent Garrett County in the General Assembly of Maryland, Mrs. Baumgartner is undertaking a border to border canvass in her county, presenting her candidacy.

She is the only woman among four candidates who seek the three separate seats representing Garrett in the House at Annapolis. She is a Democrat, endorsed by the Garrett County Democratic State Central Committee without opposition in the recent Primary.

The titian-haired, attractive candidate, is opposed on the Republican side by Jesse Ashby, Oakland; Kermit Glotfelty, Accident; and Harry Edwards, Grantsville. The Republican Party had an interesting Primary contest with eight men seeking the party's support. One incumbent, Harry Edwards survived the nomination. One other did not file.

Mrs. Baumgartner is known to most of the people in Oakland and in every nearby community. Already, she says, campaigning is giving her a wonderful opportunity to renew old friendships and discover many new friends in all parts of Garrett County.

She said she is finding many people who say they will support her because she is "a daughter of Owen and Mary Treacy".

MRS. E. I. BAUMGARTNER

Helen Baumgartner is a native of Oakland. After grade school she attended Mount Saint Agnes College and later became a graduate nurse at the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Baltimore.

Recognized for her high standing in the nursing profession, she was assigned charge in Garrett County in the Maryland Civil Defense organization. Locally, she has served as recording secretary of the Loar Auxiliary of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Nationally, she is a member of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association, in which her husband, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner is secretary of the Section on General Practice.

Aside from her professional activities, Helen Baumgartner is a member also, and past-president, of the Oakland Civic Club, and is vice president of the First District of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs.

Recognizing that agriculture and dairying are the backbone of Garrett County's high standards of living, Mrs. Baumgartner said she wants to support in the state, an expanding program of improved farm methods through the extension service and the county agricultural agents' and homemakers' services.

She believes the great field of recreation in Garrett County needs to be further developed and that almost unlimited economic opportunities are open in this field for both private and public development. A strong program of understanding and cooperation in this direction is one of her major objectives.

In her campaigning, Mrs. Baumgartner said, she wants to learn first-hand of Garrett County needs, so she can be a true representative for all the people of her home county in the House of Delegates.

As the campaign progresses, she hopes to accumulate many ideas and suggestions, which she will propose as definite objectives for her service in the General Assembly.

August Food Registration Now Under Way

Today And Tomorrow Are Final Periods

Red Cross branches in Allegany County began their second registration for surplus foods yesterday, with 339 certified.

Some confusion appears to have developed regarding registrations.

However, this is the schedule, so far as Red Cross branches in the county are concerned.

At Frostburg, families desiring surplus foods may register at the Fire Hall on Water Street today and tomorrow between 9 a. m. and noon. Mrs. J. C. Cobey is branch chairman in charge. Yesterday she registered 85.

At Lonaconing, registrants should report between 1 and 3 p.m. today or tomorrow at the Red Cross Rooms, Main Street. Yesterday, 67 were registered.

At Luke, registering for Westernport, Luke and McCoole, headquarters is established at the Devon Club. Registrants are asked to report today or tomorrow between 1 and 3:30 p. m. A total of 63 have been registered.

In Eckhart, Mrs. Clarence Thomas, who is registering applicants at the Thomas Grocery said, eligibles are asked to apply between 9 a. m. and noon today and tomorrow. Yesterday, 20 registered.

In Barton, Mrs. Arthur Hoffa, branch chairman, has been ill and is a patient at Memorial Hospital. However, those who wish to register for the August distribution may do so with Mrs. Alex Cross or Mrs. Aleta Kimble anytime today or tomorrow. Yesterday they registered a total of 12. No headquarters has been set up here by the branch and these two women may be contacted at their homes.

At Midland, Mrs. Smith is registering applicants at the Midland Fire Hall today and tomorrow from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. Yesterday, she reported 52 families registered.

At Mt. Savage, registrations are being conducted at the Community Building today and tomorrow. Mrs. Collette McNamee is branch chairman. Registrants are asked to report from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. Yesterday 47 were registered.

All registrations for the August distribution must be completed not later than tomorrow and any persons who do not register by that time cannot be certified for the August distribution.

Of the four agencies participating in the monthly registration, the Red Cross is the only one covering the entire county. The Salvation Army and Associated Charities are taking care of registrants in Cumberland and the Allegany County Welfare Board is certifying its eligible clients.

These three agencies have all completed their registration reports and are not now accepting registrants.

When the surplus food program was started by the county commissioners, it was explained that all agencies should have their registrations and certifications completed the first ten days of each month. The Red Cross, because of the scope of operation, has been unable to keep within the ten days deadline. Therefore, Wednesday is their absolute last day for registrations in the county, this month.

The registration now underway is for the August distribution. The registration which will be conducted in August will be for the September distribution.

Mrs. Helen Treacy Baumgartner Is Garrett County Candidate For House Of Delegates

OAKLAND — Mrs. Helen Treacy Baumgartner, wife of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, 134 Second Street, here, has launched her campaign for election to the Maryland House of Delegates.

Seeking to become the first woman to represent Garrett County in the General Assembly of Maryland, Mrs. Baumgartner is undertaking a border to border canvass in her county, presenting her candidacy.

She is the only woman among four candidates who seek the three separate seats representing Garrett in the House at Annapolis. She is a Democrat, endorsed by the Garrett County Democratic State Central Committee without opposition in the recent Primary.

The titian-haired, attractive candidate, is opposed on the Republican side by Jesse Ashby, Oakland; Kermit Glotfelty, Accident; and Harry Edwards, Grantsville. The Republican Party had an interesting Primary contest with eight men seeking the party's support. One incumbent, Harry Edwards survived the nomination. One other did not file.

Mrs. Baumgartner is known to most of the people in Oakland and in every nearby community. Already, she says, campaigning is giving her a wonderful opportunity to renew old friendships and discover many new friends in all parts of Garrett County.

She said she is finding many people who say they will support her because she is "a daughter of Owen and Mary Treacy".

MRS. E. I. BAUMGARTNER

Helen Baumgartner is a native of Oakland. After grade school she attended Mount Saint Agnes College and later became a graduate nurse at the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Baltimore.

Recognized for her high standing in the nursing profession, she was assigned charge in Garrett County in the Maryland Civil Defense organization. Locally, she has served as recording secretary of the Loar Auxiliary of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Nationally, she is a member of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association, in which her husband, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner is secretary of the Section on General Practice.

Aside from her professional activities, Helen Baumgartner is a member also, and past-president, of the Oakland Civic Club, and is vice president of the First District of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs.

Recognizing that agriculture and dairying are the backbone of Garrett County's high standards of living, Mrs. Baumgartner said she wants to support in the state, an expanding program of improved farm methods through the extension service and the county agricultural agents' and homemakers' services.

She believes the great field of recreation in Garrett County needs to be further developed and that almost unlimited economic opportunities are open in this field for both private and public development. A strong program of understanding and cooperation in this direction is one of her major objectives.

In her campaigning, Mrs. Baumgartner said, she wants to learn first-hand of Garrett County needs, so she can be a true representative for all the people of her home county in the House of Delegates.

As the campaign progresses, she hopes to accumulate many ideas and suggestions, which she will propose as definite objectives for her service in the General Assembly.

Nationals Seek 5th Straight In 21st All-Star Tilt Today

Whitey Ford Surprise Pick To Face N. L.

Record Crowd May See Cleveland Tilt, Roberts To Hurl

By JACK HAND

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP)-Whitey Ford, 25-year-old New York Yankee lefthander, is Manager Casey Stengel's surprise pitching choice to start against Philadelphia's Robin Roberts in tomorrow's 21st All-Star baseball game at Municipal Stadium.

Seeking to break a four-game American League losing streak, Stengel drew on his own staff to face the favored National Leaguers who pack three lefthanded sluggers—Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski, Brooklyn's Duke Snider and St. Louis' Stan Musial—in their starting lineup.

With a break from the weatherman who predicts a partly cloudy day with the thermometer soaring to the middle 90s, the All-Star attendance record of 69,812, set at Cleveland in 1935, might be broken.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EDT) with network radio (Mutual) and television (NBC and Mutual) coverage.

Although the Americans still hold a 12-8 edge in the series, the Nationals' home run power makes Manager Walter Alston's team an 8 to 5 choice.

Both clubs are in tough shape for pitching after Sunday's heavy doubleheader firing and injuries that cost the Americans the services of New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia, two of the very best.

Stengel planned to use Garcia until he got word Sunday that he was unable to pitch for his own team against the White Sox. He also expected to use Chicago's Virgil Trucks but may not work him because he pitched a tiring nine-inning game Sunday.

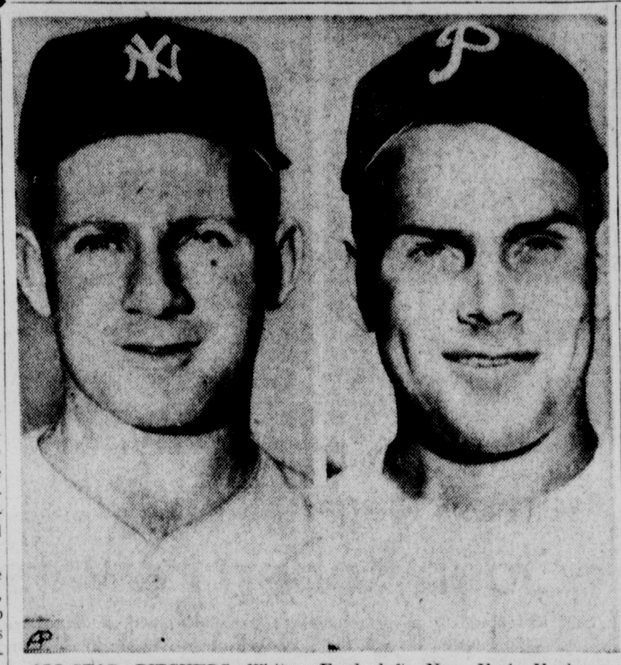

"I wanted a lefty to get after their lefthanders," Stengel said, explaining his choice of Ford who has been erratic in compiling a spotty 7-6 record. Ford, however, threw a strong game against Boston last week and looked so good in relief at Washington Saturday night that the Senators' third baseman, Eddie Yost, said, "If he throws like that nobody ever will hit him."

Alston, who got the job as a fresman manager because Brooklyn fired Chuck Dressen, the '53 pennant winner, followed the book in naming Roberts (11-8), a 27-year-old righthander who started three of the last four National League victories since 1950. No club, incidentally, ever has won five in a row. The Americans copped four straight from 1946 through 1949 and then the Nationals took charge.

Stengel won't name a second or third pitcher until tomorrow. From his conversation, you get the idea he is thinking of Washington's Bob Porterfield or Chicago's Sandy Consuegra (Garcia's replacement) for the middle three. That would give him well-rested Bob Keegan of Chicago or Dean Stone of Washington, his other lefty, to finish up.

Stengel also will have available Baltimore's Bob Turley, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Trucks, all of whom pitched Sunday.

After Roberts, Alston is undecided. He probably will shift to a lefthander, Johnny Antonelli of New York, for the middle three. That would leave lefthander Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and righthanders Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Marv Grissom of New York and Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Jim Wilson. Five of the Nationals' seven pitchers worked Sunday, Spahn pitched Saturday and Antonelli Friday.

ALL-STAR PITCHERS—Whitey Ford, left, New York Yankees portsider, has been selected by American League All-Star manager Casey Stengel as starter in today's game at Municipal Stadium in Cleveland. Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies righthander, has gotten the nod as starter for the National League by Walt Alston, pilot of the senior loop squad.

A spirit of neighborliness makes friends, in the large city just as in the small town.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The newcomer to a large city often remarks on its seeming lack of friendliness. "None of the back-fence feeling we enjoyed at home!" was one out-of-towner's way of voicing her objections to New York.

Even though "chatting over the back fence" is often joked about—because so often there is gossip involved — the proverbial fence can be a symbol of neighborliness and friendship, in a city or in the smallest of towns.

Suppose you are a career girl, establishing yourself in a new community. You'll quickly meet people allied with your chosen work, and through them find other friends. But you can't sit at home waiting for one thing to lead to another! Don't be hesitant about joining church groups, clubs, and professional organizations. Let others know you're anxious to be friends. They'll come halfway — to the other side of the fence! — to meet you.

Your Move

If your husband's business takes you to a "foreign" location, why resist the move? Many a wife has slowed her husband's career to a snail's pace by her unwillingness to pull up stakes; or, once the stakes are grounded again, by her hesitancy to make friends in new surroundings. It's up to you to open your mind to a wider circle. You never know how fine a friend you'll discover in the house or the apartment next door.

If you have been blissfully living in and enjoying a single community for a number of years, you have a kind of "backfence" obligation to make new neighbors feel at home.

Sincere Greeting

Next time you attend any meeting or social gathering, make a point of greeting with particular warmth any stranger in the crowd. Were you the stranger, wouldn't you feel slighted if others persisted in minding their own personal interests without concern for your welfare?

You won't receive a medal for friendliness if you go afield from your close-knit group to form new acquaintances, but you're exhibiting true charm and graciousness if you do. And you're bound to feel a glow of pleasure at the newcomer's smile.

YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career — every girl or woman now in business who is eager to reach top-flight success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job . . . reveals secrets on how to hold your job. See how easy it is to choose a suitable wardrobe. Save time — uncertainty — steps in charm that lead to YOUR SUCCESS. LEFTY GOES TO RIGHT

More adults than children are afraid to enter caves, according to the operator of Meramec Caverns in Stanton, Mo.

A spirit of neighborliness makes friends, in the large city just as in the small town.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The newcomer to a large city often remarks on its seeming lack of friendliness. "None of the back-fence feeling we enjoyed at home!" was one out-of-towner's way of voicing her objections to New York.

Even though "chatting over the back fence" is often joked about—because so often there is gossip involved — the proverbial fence can be a symbol of neighborliness and friendship, in a city or in the smallest of towns.

Suppose you are a career girl, establishing yourself in a new community. You'll quickly meet people allied with your chosen work, and through them find other friends. But you can't sit at home waiting for one thing to lead to another! Don't be hesitant about joining church groups, clubs, and professional organizations. Let others know you're anxious to be friends. They'll come halfway — to the other side of the fence! — to meet you.

Your Move

If your husband's business takes you to a "foreign" location, why resist the move? Many a wife has slowed her husband's career to a snail's pace by her unwillingness to pull up stakes; or, once the stakes are grounded again, by her hesitancy to make friends in new surroundings. It's up to you to open your mind to a wider circle. You never know how fine a friend you'll discover in the house or the apartment next door.

If you have been blissfully living in and enjoying a single community for a number of years, you have a kind of "backfence" obligation to make new neighbors feel at home.

Sincere Greeting

Next time you attend any meeting or social gathering, make a point of greeting with particular warmth any stranger in the crowd. Were you the stranger, wouldn't you feel slighted if others persisted in minding their own personal interests without concern for your welfare?

You won't receive a medal for friendliness if you go afield from your close-knit group to form new acquaintances, but you're exhibiting true charm and graciousness if you do. And you're bound to feel a glow of pleasure at the newcomer's smile.

YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career — every girl or woman now in business who is eager to reach top-flight success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job . . . reveals secrets on how to hold your job. See how easy it is to choose a suitable wardrobe. Save time — uncertainty — steps in charm that lead to YOUR SUCCESS. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin, velope, for a copy of the booklet. Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

R L A Q U , E P M B G M R K P L H W I
U J U A Q U , B P U S A X U R I L S Q U M H B N
X R I X K B A U K K ? — Q N A L R .

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

A VERY USEFUL DEVICE

A SUIT bid of one more than necessary to overcall the opponent's suit bid is a very useful device, a two-edged sword, when employed in the best way. With the most skillful bidders, it has the primary meaning of showing a hand about as strong as a take-out-double hand, but with two biddable suits in it. If the partner doesn't fit that, he must strain to keep it open and hear the other suit. In case the first partner then rebids his first suit, it indicates he is in good shape there, but is making a mild shut-out effort, perhaps over-bidding slightly to "shut out the pikers."

(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1. 1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	3 ♠	4 ♥	4 ♠
5 ♥	5 ♠	Pass	Pass
Dbl.
2. 1 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	3 ♠

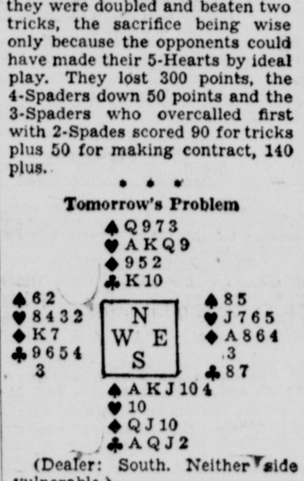

The outcome of this deal in a duplicate tournament depended on what South did on his first turn. Wherever he overcalled the opening 1-Club with 1-Spade, lively bidding followed, as shown in the first sequence. Where South saw fit to bid 3-Spades as a shutout, North carried it to 4-Spades. The Souths who bid 2-Spades managed to shut out the opponents, without eventually getting too high.

Not that one swallow can prove the arrival of summer, or a single bridge hand prove a bidding point, but this deal worked out so that the call by the better players got the better results.

Those who bid only 1-Spade saw it overcalled, and thereafter competed until they got so high they were doubled and beaten two tricks, the sacrifice being wise only because the opponents could have made their 5-Hearts by ideal play. They lost 300 points, the 4-Spaders down 50 points and the 3-Spaders who overcalled first with 2-Spades scored 90 for tricks plus 50 for making contract, 140 plus.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

What would you consider the most promising bidding by North and South on this deal?

The newest thing in cigaret smoking is perfume. A British tobacco firm has started to export perfumed cigarets.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

R L A Q U , E P M B G M R K P L H W I
U J U A Q U , B P U S A X U R I L S Q U M H B N
X R I X K B A U K K ?—Q N A L R.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: A WRETCH! A VILLIAN! LOST TO LOVE AND TRUTH!—BURNS.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

A VERY USEFUL DEVICE

A SUIT bid of one more than necessary to overcall the opponent's suit bid is a very useful device, a two-edged sword, when employed in the best way. With the most skillful bidders, it has the primary meaning of showing a hand about as strong as a take-out-double hand, but with two biddable suits in it. If the partner doesn't fit that, he must strain to keep it open and hear the other suit. In case the first partner then rebids his first suit, it indicates he is in good shape there, but is making a mild shut-out effort, perhaps over-bidding slightly to "shut out the pikers."

The outcome of this deal in a duplicate tournament depended on what South did on his first turn. Wherever he overcalled the opening 1-Club with 1-Spade, lively bidding followed, as shown in the first sequence. Where South saw fit to bid 3-Spades as a shutout, North carried it to 4-Spades. The Souths who bid 2-Spades managed to shut out the opponents, without eventually getting too high.

Not that one swallow can prove the arrival of summer, or a single bridge hand prove a bidding point, but this deal worked out so that the call by the better players got the better results.

Those who bid only 1-Spade saw it overcalled, and thereafter competed until they got so high they were doubled and beaten two tricks, the sacrifice being wise only because the opponents could have made their 5-Hearts by ideal play. They lost 300 points, the 4-Spaders down 50 points and the 3-Spaders who overcalled first with 2-Spades scored 90 for tricks plus 50 for making contract, 140 plus.

Card of Thanks

We hereby extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness following the tragic death of our son and brother, James E. Elliott of Westernport. To those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To the members of Victory Post 155 American Legion who accorded military honors and to the Rev. E. W. Welford who officiated the funeral services, we are especially grateful. We also wish to express a special word of gratitude to the young men of the Tritowns who heroically endeavored to save him and recovered his body from Deep Creek Lake.

Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Charles A. Jewell, who left us one year ago, July 12, 1953

Some may think we are not lonely,
When times they see us smile.
But little do they know the heartache,
That we suffer all the while.
Our family circle is broken,
The voice we love is still.
Your place is vacant in our hearts,
No one can ever fill.
Flowers we place upon your grave,
Will wither and decay.
But love for you who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by His wife & family.

Card of Thanks

We hereby extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness following the tragic death of our son and brother, James E. Elliott of Westernport. To those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To the members of Victory Post 155 American Legion who accorded military honors and to the Rev. E. W. Welford who officiated the funeral services, we are especially grateful. We also wish to express a special word of gratitude to the young men of the Tritowns who heroically endeavored to save him and recovered his body from Deep Creek Lake.

Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Charles A. Jewell, who left us one year ago, July 12, 1953
Some may think we are not lonely,
When times they see us smile.
But little do they know the heartache,
That we suffer all the while.
Our family circle is broken,
The voice we love is still.
Your place is vacant in our hearts,
No one can ever fill.
Flowers we place upon your grave,
Will wither and decay,
But love for you who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.
Dearly loved and sadly missed
by His wife & family.

Contests Planned At Playground

City championships will be determined at municipal playgrounds this week in six different divisions of horseshoes and box hockey contests.

Tomorrow the seven playgrounds in the Northern Division will hold the Northern Division box hockey play-offs at Columbia Street Playground and the same night the Southern Division box hockey champions will fight it out on Pennsylvania Avenue, Playground.

Tomorrow at 2 p. m. West Side Playground will be the scene of the Northern Division horse shoe tournament and at the same time East Side playground will host the Southern Division champions.

Finals for the city horseshoe championships in each age division will be held Thursday afternoon on the home playground of the Northern Division winners, while at 7 p. m. the city box hockey championships will be held on the Southern Division champions home ground.

There will be six divisions in the box hockey play-offs, ages 12 and below, boy or girl; 13 to 15, boys and girls; and 16 and up, boys and girls. There are only four divisions in horseshoes, 12 and below, 13 and 15, 16 and up for boys; and one girls division.

Playgrounds Plan Parade

A big parade downtown is being planned for the 16 city playgrounds by the City Recreation Department.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, yesterday asked the Mayor and Council for permission to stage the event Friday, August 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Pence informed council that floats will be entered by each of the 16 playlots. His request was referred to William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and fire.

The parade would form on South George Street, Pence said, and march over the following route to the disbanding point at the State Armory: South George to Baltimore, to North Centre, to Frederick, to North Mechanic, to Baltimore, South Liberty, to Harrison and to South Centre.

The council also received a request from the Cumberland Fair Association to hang a banner on Baltimore Street advertising the Greater Cumberland Fair, August 23 to August 28.

Bids Opened On North End Paving Work

Bids on two North End paving projects were opened yesterday morning and referred to William H. Buchholtz city street commissioner, by the Mayor and Council.

Two local contractors bid on the jobs — paving Roeth Avenue from Holland Street to Piedmont Street, and paving Sunbury Avenue from Holland Street to the city limits.

On the Roeth Avenue project, Cumberland Contracting Company bid $9,811.55 on Alternate Plan 2, while the George Construction Company had a $11,533 on Alternate Plan 1.

The Cumberland Contracting firm did not bid on Alternate Plan 1, while the George firm did not submit a figure on Alternate Plan 2.

On the Sunbury project, Cumberland bid $8,611.50 on Alternate Plan 2 and the George firm, $9,708.60 on Alternate Plan 1. They did not submit any bids on the other alternates.

The bids were referred to the street commissioner and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for consideration.

Only one bid was received by the Mayor and Council for pipe and fittings for the Water Department, that by the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply, this city, with a $6,333.90 total. Bids on this were due at 10 a. m. and one received at 10:03 a. m. was rejected.

Lease Sentenced On Motor Count

Billy LeRoy Lease, RD 1, drew a suspended six-month sentence to the House of Correction and was fined $101.45 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of driving with a revoked license.

Testimony in the case was heard last Wednesday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick who warned Lease not to operate a motor vehicle until he is properly licensed.

Lease was arrested May 30 on Route 220 by State Trooper L. C. Clark. He pleaded not guilty to the motor count.

Market Session Indecisive With Prices Rather Mixed

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The Stock Market sat back and rested today after a somewhat vigorous start.

The net result was indecisive with prices rather mixed but still showing a good measure of their early advantage.

The steels and railroads stood up best. They had support from movie issues and utilities as well as from a long list of stocks responding to corporate developments.

Motors were spotty, and that also applied to coppers, oils, aircrafts and chemicals. Lower were the electrical equipments, building materials, and tobaccos.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at the Friday close of $130.00, the best of the year and the highest since Oct. 22, 1929. The railroad component scored a new high at $96.30 up 40 cents. The industrials lost 40 cents while utilities remained unchanged.

Among the blocks were National Theatres 10,100 shares at 7½ with a close of 7½ up ⅛. Curtiss-Wright three blocks totaling 31,500 shares at 10½ with a close unchanged at 10½, New York Shipbuilding 7,500 shares at 20 with a close at 20¼ up ⅜s, Columbia Gas 10,000 at 14⅜ with a close at 14¼ off ½, Loew's 8,500 at 15¼ with a close at 15⅞ up ⅜s, and Ashland Oil 12,300 at 12 with a close at 12⅛ off ⅛s.

Contests Planned At Playground

City championships will be determined at municipal playgrounds this week in six different divisions of horseshoes and box hockey contests.

Tomorrow the seven playgrounds in the Northern Division will hold the Northern Division box hockey play-offs at Columbia Street Playground and the same night the Southern Division box hockey champions will fight it out on Pennsylvania Avenue, Playground.

Tomorrow at 2 p. m. West Side Playground will be the scene of the Northern Division horse shoe tournament and at the same time East Side playground will host the Southern Division champions.

Finals for the city horseshoe championships in each age division will be held Thursday afternoon on the home playground of the Northern Division winners, while at 7 p. m. the city box hockey championships will be held on the Southern Division champions home ground.

There will be six divisions in the box hockey play-offs, ages 12 and below, boy or girl; 13 to 15, boys and girls; and 16 and up, boys and girls. There are only four divisions in horseshoes, 12 and below, 13 and 15, 16 and up for boys; and one girls division.

Playgrounds Plan Parade

A big parade downtown is being planned for the 16 city playgrounds by the City Recreation Department.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, yesterday asked the Mayor and Council for permission to stage the event Friday, August 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Pence informed council that floats will be entered by each of the 16 playlots. His request was referred to William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and fire.

The parade would form on South George Street, Pence said, and march over the following route to the disbanding point at the State Armory: South George to Baltimore, to North Centre, to Frederick, to North Mechanic, to Baltimore, South Liberty, to Harrison and to South Centre.

The council also received a request from the Cumberland Fair Association to hang a banner on Baltimore Street advertising the Greater Cumberland Fair, August 23 to August 28.

Bids Opened On North End Paving Work

Bids on two North End paving projects were opened yesterday morning and referred to William H. Buchholtz city street commissioner, by the Mayor and Council.

Two local contractors bid on the jobs — paving Roeth Avenue from Holland Street to Piedmont Street, and paving Sunbury Avenue from Holland Street to the city limits.

On the Roeth Avenue project, Cumberland Contracting Company bid $9,811.55 on Alternate Plan 2, while the George Construction Company had a $11,533 on Alternate Plan 1.

The Cumberland Contracting firm did not bid on Alternate Plan 1, while the George firm did not submit a figure on Alternate Plan 2.

On the Sunbury project, Cumberland bid $8,611.50 on Alternate Plan 2 and the George firm, $9,708.60 on Alternate Plan 1. They did not submit any bids on the other alternates.

The bids were referred to the street commissioner and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for consideration.

Only one bid was received by the Mayor and Council for pipe and fittings for the Water Department, that by the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply, this city, with a $6,333.90 total. Bids on this were due at 10 a. m. and one received at 10:03 a. m. was rejected.

Lease Sentenced On Motor Count

Billy LeRoy Lease, RD 1, drew a suspended six-month sentence to the House of Correction and was fined $101.45 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of driving with a revoked license.

Testimony in the case was heard last Wednesday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick who warned Lease not to operate a motor vehicle until he is properly licensed.

Lease was arrested May 30 on Route 220 by State Trooper L. C. Clark. He pleaded not guilty to the motor count.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Hello, Mrs. Butterworth, have you found any you think you'd like to have?"

Market Session Indecisive With Prices Rather Mixed

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The Stock Market sat back and rested today after a somewhat vigorous start.

The net result was indecisive with prices rather mixed but still showing a good measure of their early advantage.

The steels and railroads stood up best. They had support from movie issues and utilities as well as from a long list of stocks responding to corporate developments.

Motors were spotty, and that also applied to coppers, oils, aircrafts and chemicals. Lower were the electrical equipments, building materials, and tobaccos.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at the Friday close of $130.00, the best of the year and the highest since Oct. 22, 1929. The railroad component scored a new high at $96.30 up 40 cents. The industrials lost 40 cents while utilities remained unchanged.

Among the blocks were National Theatres 10,100 shares at 7½ with a close of 7½ up ⅛. Curtiss-Wright three blocks totaling 31,500 shares at 10½ with a close unchanged at 10½, New York Shipbuilding 7,500 shares at 20 with a close at 20¼ up ⅜, Columbia Gas 10,000 at 14⅜ with a close at 14¼ off ½, Loew's 8,500 at 15¼ with a close at 15⅞ up ⅜, and Ashland Oil 12,300 at 12 with a close at 12⅛ off ⅛.

C&A Admission Ends Hearing About Gas Rate

Board's Approval Followed Purchase

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Hearings on an application of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. for authority to charge higher rates ended after an all day session today, but the Public Service Commission asked for briefs to supplement the oral testimony.

The PSC instructed both the company and opponents of the higher rate schedule to submit briefs by Aug. 9.

Testimony today disclosed that the company paid four million dollars for a West Virginia gas field before getting formal approval of the board of directors for the transaction.

C. A. Massa, company vice president, said the only formal action by the board of directors was approval of financing arrangements several weeks after the actual purchase in 1951 of the Terra Alta, W. Va., field.

Massa said, however, that various members of the board knew of the purchase as individuals although no corporate action had been taken.

His testimony was given under cross-examination as a hearing resumed on Cumberland and Allegheny's application for authority to charge higher rates to about 20,000 Maryland customers.

Massa had been asked at a prior hearing to supply information on the purchase and operating costs in the Terra Alta field.

Other figures given by Massa on the company's operations:

Cumberland and and Allegheny's property tax bill in Maryland rose from $50,796 in 1952 to $71,972 in 1953. In West Virginia, the property tax rose from $41,767 to $44,098 over the same period.

The company's expenditures for wells that turned out to be dry holes exceeded estimates last year by $200,000.

Massa said he hopes the company can pay some income tax for 1954. It paid none in 1953 because of a net loss.

The company's requested increase, filed last Jan. 22, will raise the average monthly bill by an estimated 65 cents a month. For those who use gas for heating, the increase will be about $3.70 under the company's proposed scale.

City Defers Decision On Expressway

Utility, Property Studies Under Way

The Mayor and Council yesterday agreed to defer any action on the crosstown expressway plan until additional State Roads Commission data is received.

The delaying action, upon motion of Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, was taken in the council chamber crowded with citizens and representatives of interested groups who turned up for what was expected to be open debate on the subject.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan phoned yesterday from Baltimore and requested the Mayor and Council immediately determine the amount of assessment of the properties in the path of the crosstown expressway.

Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, informed the council that two men from the Engineering Department will work on this project in the land records office of the Clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court until the information is accumulated.

Finan and Nuzum, in their official report, stated that an extension on any council action in regards to the crosstown route has been obtained from the State Roads Commission to July 26.

Jaycees Register Objections

Local utilities have been contacted and they are estimating the cost of relocating their lines that will come to the path of the expressway, they said.

Meanwhile, the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce president, George L. Carney, in a long letter to the Mayor and Council, said his organization had voted against the crosstown bridge and the alternate route that had been proposed by the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The objections of the Jaycees, listed in the letter, involved cost mainly, but touched on the inadequacy and antiquity of the primary highways of this section.

Allenger Gives Views

F. Patrick Allender, president of the Allegany Trades Council, presented a detailed recommendation of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission Planning and Zon- World War II in favor of a crosstown bridge.

This proposed bridge, extending from Emily Street to Johnson Street, follows nearly the same location of the span proposed by the State Roads Commission.

The commission at that time pointed out that while flood protection and water plant improvement were the immediate projects to be considered after the war, the bridge should be a long range project.

The commission of World War II days pointed to the bottleneck of traffic in downtown Cumberland, and added that the Federal Public Works agencies and the State Roads Commission had approved this bridge at that time.

Allender declared that the State Roads Commission should be insulted by the opposition resulting from the present Planning and Zoning Commission.

"We are going to bring out in the next two weeks why the Planning and Zoning Commission wants the industrial boulevard segments," Allender stated.

"We believe the SRC is being condemned and crucified while carrying out recommendations of a previous Planning Commission," he added.

Allender said he does not believe it is right to put out figures on the cost of the project before the plans have been made.

James S. Getty, assistant State's Attorney, last night was named chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County.

Getty, a resident of Lonaconing, formerly was manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration. Earl E. Manges, local attorney, was chairman of the group and resigned when he ran for nomination to the office of State Senator. His term was filled by Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis.

During the meeting held at the home of Sheriff Edward R. Muir, Lewis was named vice chairman and Samuel M. Berry, of Westernport, secretary-treasurer.

All the new committee members were present for the meeting. They are Getty, George F. S. Jeffrey, David J. Williams and Francis D. Miller.

Consultants Making Survey On US 40 East

Martins And Polish Mountains Included

On-the-spot survey crews are working out plans for widening, relocating and eliminating curves and grades on U. S. Route 40 over Martin's Mountain and Polish Mountain.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the Maryland State Roads Commission, said last night a firm of consultant engineers, Michael Baker Company of Pennsylvania, has been engaged to work out the plans and details.

Crews are already on the job and as fast as plans and details can be prepared, this much-needed improvement will get under way.

Both Martin's Mountain and Polish Mountain are noted for their sharp curves, steep grades and narrow spots, as well as for their scenic beauty.

For some years, business firms and civic-minded people interested in bringing more tourists into this area have urged improvements on US 40 between Cumberland and Hancock.

The Route 40 Association has repeatedly urged that emphasis be placed on improvements on this mountainous stretch of roadway, and under the state's mammoth 12-year road-building program, many improvements are projected.

Chaires said last night that the State Roads Commission is utilizing the services of consulting engineers, where possible, to speed up the planning of these major projects, so actual construction can get under way as speedily as possible.

Ten miles of relocation and improvement of US 40 on Polish and Martin's Mountains, he observed, will be a fair-sized slice of what must be done between Cumberland and Hancock to provide a modern and adequate road over the scenic mountains.

State Welfare Funds Increased For Needy Aid

$7,000 Additional Provided Monthly

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — The Board of Public Works today released extra funds so that the Dept. of Public Welfare can continue giving financial aid to eligible needy without delay.

The board ruled that monthly expenditures on aid-to-needy could total about $426,000.

Under the present budget, the department receives $398,074 a month under regular appropriations and $20,833 a month from a special contingent fund—a total of $418,907 a month.

That's about $7,000 below the department's current requirements, Director Thomas J. S. Waxter told the board. He warned that "the situation is serious."

Before the board acted, Budget Director James G. Rennie said that if the department continued spending at a rate of $426,000 a month, an emergency appropriation of $100,000 would be needed before the fiscal year ends.

The board also approved spending $10,992 to operate the Catoctin Recreation Demonstration Area, recently acquired from the federal government.

Members gave tentative approval to a plan for moving the Annapolis armory. Architects for the new state office building said the armory would hurt the appearance of a planned mall between the present office building and the new structure.

They said it would cost about $250,000 to move the armory 150 feet west.

4-H Conservation Camp Will Fete Six City Boys

100 Rural Youths Also Will Attend

BITTINGER, Md., July 12 (AP)—Experts will explain conservation to Maryland youth at an annual encampment in this Garrett County community beginning July 19.

This year, for the first time, six city youths will take part with the 100 rural boys, chosen by 4-H clubs in each of the state's 23 counties because of their interest in conservation. The city boys have been included in recognition of the importance of conservation of water resources to city people as well as rural residents.

In their tours, the boys will be shown methods of conserving water and how poor controls results in wasted water and erosion.

Their guides will instruct them, too, in sound land management policies, tell them of the dangers of water polution by industrial or other wastes, and describe the need for good forestry practices to sustain game and maintain watersheds.

City Surplus Fund May Hit $80,000

The City of Cumberland may have a "very favorable" surplus on hand to begin the current fiscal year.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, yesterday said the surplus from the 1953-54 fiscal year may be about $80,000 adding that complete figures will be available within a few days.

Since the surplus is to be placed intact into the 1954-55 budget, it will represent the amount which would be raised by about 12 cents on the tax levy.

The surplus is considerably above the $66,000 which was available to apply to the budget for the fiscal year which ended on June 30.

Gibson said the estimated surplus does not include the $15,000 which has been set aside to pay for the new fire truck, which is expected to be delivered here within a few days.

The size of the surplus reflects a number of factors which include higher than expected state-shared revenues and about $30,000 remaining from funds set aside for street cleaning and for streets and alleys.

Plan To Allow More Two-Car Garages Studied

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission has indicated definite interest in city proposals for seeking modification of zoning laws to allow the construction of more two-car garages.

The commission, at its recent meeting, indicated definite interest in the plan and asked that city officials prepare and refer to its plans for easing the restrictions.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, presented the subject, explaining that there has been some difficulty with the present formula which generally allows only single-car garages to be built.

The code provides that garages and accessory buildings may be constructed in rear yards provided no more than 50 per cent of the rear yard (computed by multiplying the depth of the required rear yard by the width of the rear yard) is occupied by such structure.

He said City Engineer C. R. Nuzum has been making a study of the multiple garage problem. Finan added that any change should include rules for keeping minimum side yards and for standard distances from the home.

Other possibilities are to set a standard width for a two-car garage and allow that, or to allow multiple garages as long as side yard restrictions are observed.

It was pointed out that the Board of Zoning Appeals has often exercised some discretion in the matter.

Members of the commission appeared sympathetic with the plan and promised prompt review of any recommendations.

State Reports Polio Cases Are Running Below Average

Seven cases of acute poliomyelitis have been reported in the State of Maryland to date for the year 1954. This compares with nine cases for the same period in 1953 and with a five year average of 15 cases for this period.

Although this year's incidence is slightly lower than last and considerably lower than the five-year average, State Health Department officials said it is still too early in the season to estimate the prevalence of poliomyelitis in Maryland for the rest of the year.

Reports from the rest of the Middle and South Atlantic States indicate that the incidence of cases to date is approximately the same as it was last year. However, Alabama and North Carolina, who were experiencing large numbers of cases by this time last year, have had relatively low incidences of cases to date is approximately the same as it was last year. However, Alabama and North Carolina, who were experiencing large numbers of cases by this time last year, have had relatively low incidences to date.

Though gamma globulin is available and will be supplied by the Maryland State Department of Health, through local health departments, to physicians who request it for use in connection with poliomyelitis, officials reiterated that it is the considered opinion of the Maryland State Board of Health that there is no evidence that gamma globulin is of value in the prevention or modification of the disease.

This opinion was reached after careful study of the "Summary Report of the National Advisory Committee for the Evaluation of Gamma Globulin in the Prophylaxis of Poliomyelitis in 1953" and was announced at the meeting of the State Board of Health on April 14.

"No Swimming" Sign Might Be A Life Saver

"No Swimming" signs at some places which formerly were favorite bathing spots may prove to be life savers, health authorities warn.

All too often swimming is unsafe because the water is not clean. The problem is of clean water not just for swimming, but for drinking, washing and all the other personal and industrial uses to which this indispensable material is put.

Water cleans itself, up to a certain point. Today vast amounts of waste material are poured into rivers and lakes. If more waste is dumped into it than the water can purify by its natural processes, it becomes pollutted and unsafe. If impure, water becomes a danger. It becomes a disease carrier then.

Local utilities have been contacted and they are estimating the cost of relocating their lines that will come to the path of the expressway, they said.

Meanwhile, the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce president, George L. Carney, in a long letter to the Mayor and Council, said his organization had voted against the crosstown bridge and the alternate route that had been proposed by the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The objections of the Jaycees, listed in the letter, involved cost mainly, but touched on the inadequacy and antiquity of the primary highways of this section.

Allenger Gives Views

F. Patrick Allender, president of the Allegany Trades Council, presented a detailed recommendation of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission Planning and Zon-World War II in favor of a crosstown bridge.

This proposed bridge, extending from Emily Street to Johnson Street, follows nearly the same location of the span proposed by the State Roads Commission.

The commission at that time pointed out that while flood protection and water plant improvement were the immediate projects to be considered after the war, the bridge should be a long range project.

The commission of World War II days pointed to the bottleneck of traffic in downtown Cumberland, and added that the Federal Public Works agencies and the State Roads Commission had approved this bridge at that time.

Allender declared that the State Roads Commission should be insulted by the opposition resulting from the present Planning and Zoning Commission.

"We are going to bring out in the next two weeks why the Planning and Zoning Commission wants the industrial boulevard segments," Allender stated.

"We believe the SRC is being condemned and crucified while carrying out recommendations of a previous Planning Commission," he added.

Allender said he does not believe it is right to put out figures on the cost of the project before the plans have been made.

Consultants Making Survey On US 40 East

Martins And Polish Mountains Included

On-the-spot survey crews are working out plans for widening, relocating and eliminating curves and grades on U. S. Route 40 over Martin's Mountain and Polish Mountain.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the Maryland State Roads Commission, said last night a firm of consultant engineers, Michael Baker Company of Pennsylvania, has been engaged to work out the plans and details.

Crews are already on the job and as fast as plans and details can be prepared, this much-needed improvement will get under way.

Both Martin's Mountain and Polish Mountain are noted for their sharp curves, steep grades and narrow spots, as well as for their scenic beauty.

For some years, business firms and civic-minded people interested in bringing more tourists into this area have urged improvements on US 40 between Cumberland and Hancock.

The Route 40 Association has repeatedly urged that emphasis be placed on improvements on this mountainous stretch of roadway, and under the state's mammoth 12-year road-building program, many improvements are projected.

Chaires said last night that the State Roads Commission is utilizing the services of consulting engineers, where possible, to speed up the planning of these major projects, so actual construction can get under way as speedily as possible.

Ten miles of relocation and improvement of US 40 on Polish and Martin's Mountains, he observed, will be a fair-sized slice of what must be done between Cumberland and Hancock to provide a modern and adequate road over the scenic mountains.

State Welfare Funds Increased For Needy Aid

$7,000 Additional Provided Monthly

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — The Board of Public Works today released extra funds so that the Dept. of Public Welfare can continue giving financial aid to eligible needy without delay.

The board ruled that monthly expenditures on aid-to-needy could total about $426,000.

Under the present budget, the department receives $398,074 a month under regular appropriations and $20,833 a month from a special contingent fund—a total of $418,907 a month.

That's about $7,000 below the department's current requirements, Director Thomas J. S. Waxter told the board. He warned that "the situation is serious."

Before the board acted, Budget Director James G. Rennie said that if the department continued spending at a rate of $426,000 a month, an emergency appropriation of $100,000 would be needed before the fiscal year ends.

The board also approved spending $10,992 to operate the Catoctin Recreation Demonstration Area, recently acquired from the federal government.

Members gave tentative approval to a plan for moving the Annapolis armory. Architects for the new state office building said the armory would hurt the appearance of a planned mall between the present office building and the new structure.

They said it would cost about $250,000 to move the armory 150 feet west.

City Surplus Fund May Hit $80,000

The City of Cumberland may have a "very favorable" surplus on hand to begin the current fiscal year.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, yesterday said the surplus from the 1953-54 fiscal year may be about $80,000 adding that complete figures will be available within a few days.

Since the surplus is to be placed intact into the 1954-55 budget, it will represent the amount which would be raised by about 12 cents on the tax levy.

The surplus is considerably above the $66,000 which was available to apply to the budget for the fiscal year which ended on June 30.

Gibson said the estimated surplus does not include the $15,000 which has been set aside to pay for the new fire truck, which is expected to be delivered here within a few days.

The size of the surplus reflects a number of factors which include higher than expected state-shared revenues and about $30,000 remaining from funds set aside for street cleaning and for streets and alleys.

"No Swimming" Sign Might Be A Life Saver

"No Swimming" signs at some places which formerly were favorite bathing spots may prove to be life savers, health authorities warn.

All too often swimming is unsafe because the water is not clean. The problem is of clean water not just for swimming, but for drinking, washing and all the other personal and industrial uses to which this indispensable material is put.

Water cleans itself, up to a certain point. Today vast amounts of waste material are poured into rivers and lakes. If more waste is dumped into it than the water can purify by its natural processes, it becomes pollutted and unsafe. If impure, water becomes a danger. It becomes a disease carrier then.

Plan To Allow More Two-Car Garages Studied

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission has indicated definite interest in city proposals for seeking modification of zoning laws to allow the construction of more two-car garages.

The commission, at its recent meeting, indicated definite interest in the plan and asked that city officials prepare and refer to its plans for easing the restrictions.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, presented the subject, explaining that there has been some difficulty with the present formula which generally allows only single-car garages to be built.

The code provides that garages and accessory buildings may be constructed in rear yards provided no more than 50 per cent of the rear yard (computed by multiplying the depth of the required rear yard by the width of the rear yard) is occupied by such structure.

He said City Engineer C. R. Nuzum has been making a study of the multiple garage problem. Finan added that any change should include rules for keeping minimum side yards and for standard distances from the home.

Other possibilities are to set a standard width for a two-car garage and allow that, or to allow multiple garages as long as side yard restrictions are observed.

It was pointed out that the Board of Zoning Appeals has often exercised some discretion in the matter.

Members of the commission appeared sympathetic with the plan and promised prompt review of any recommendations.

State Reports Polio Cases Are Running Below Average

Seven cases of acute poliomyelitis have been reported in the State of Maryland to date for the year 1954. This compares with nine cases for the same period in 1953 and with a five year average of 15 cases for this period.

Although this year's incidence is slightly lower than last and considerably lower than the five-year average, State Health Department officials said it is still too early in the season to estimate the prevalence of poliomyelitis in Maryland for the rest of the year.

Reports from the rest of the Middle and South Atlantic States indicate that the incidence of cases to date is approximately the same as it was last year. However, Alabama and North Carolina, who were experiencing large numbers of cases by this time last year, have had relatively low incidences of cases to date is approximately the same as it was last year. However, Alabama and North Carolina, who were experiencing large numbers of cases by this time last year, have had relatively low incidences to date.

Though gamma globulin is available and will be supplied by the Maryland State Department of Health, through local health departments, to physicians who request it for use in connection with poliomyelitis, officials reiterated that it is the considered opinion of the Maryland State Board of Health that there is no evidence that gamma globulin is of value in the prevention or modification of the disease.

This opinion was reached after careful study of the "Summary Report of the National Advisory Committee for the Evaluation of Gamma Globulin in the Prophylaxis of Poliomyelitis in 1953" and was announced at the meeting of the State Board of Health on April 14.
